MARCH 18, 2020

What the COVID-19 Telehealth Waiver Means for Psychology Practitioners

Emergency legislation and guidelines are temporarily expanding psychologists’ ability to provide telehealth services to Medicare patients so they can receive treatment at home during the public health emergency.
How to Prepare Your Office for Telehealth

Use this helpful checklist to make sure you have the right hardware and software and satisfied the legal and

Informed Consent Checklist for Telepsychological Services

Review this form with your patients before starting telehealth sessions.
clinical requirements to successfully offer virtual services to your patients.

FAQs: Psychology training and COVID-19
Do you supervise psychology trainees, or are you currently a trainee yourself? Read APA’s guidance on how telepractice can help facilitate training during the coronavirus outbreak.

Want more info on telepsychology?
Visit APA.org to learn more about advancing your practice with telehealth, mobile apps and other remote technologies.
• Psychologist Positions in Beautiful Oregon, Samaritan Health Services, Albany, Newport, Lincoln City and Corvallis, Oregon
• Assistant/Associate Clinical Professor, IU Department of Psychological & Brain Sciences, Bloomington, Indiana