

Do you know the Sheep and Beef Cattle Veterinarian of the Year?

.....

We all know a veterinarian who really stands out in their field. Someone who loves chewing the cud about beef cattle, or whose sheer love of sheep underpins everything they do.

.....

The NZVA Society of Sheep and Beef Cattle Veterinarians are pleased to announce your chance to nominate a sheep and beef cattle veterinarian for the Sheep and Beef Vet of the Year award. We're looking for a vet who has had a lasting impact on the health and wellbeing of sheep and beef cattle.

About the Sheep and Beef Cattle Veterinarian of the Year award

- Veterinarians can be nominated by colleagues, farmer clients or members of wider agricultural industry.
- Nominations are open now and close on 20 May.
- Great prizes – the Sheep and Beef Vet of the Year will win a mystery weekend for two

How to nominate

A 500 word written brief is required from the nominator which should include both contact details of nominee and nominator.

Email to the Secretary of the Sheep and Beef Cattle Veterinarians of the NZVA sheep-beef@vets.org.nz.

For more information on the award please visit www.nzva.org.nz/sb or contact the committee of the NZVA Society of Sheep and Beef Cattle Veterinarians at sheep-beef@vets.org.nz.

