

Ohio's Tree Farm of the Year Tour

Sycamore Hill Tree Farm

September 19th, 2015 - 9 am to 2pm

Alan Walter is welcoming visitors to his 152 acre Certified Tree Farm for a fun day learning more about managing a forest for a variety of uses from timber harvesting and songbird management, to working with the oil and gas industry. Come witness a recent timber harvest, a recent clearcut for songbird habitat, historical cable system oil wells, plus see how a Utica well recently drilled on the property is managed in conjunction with these other uses.

Location: At intersection of SR 151 and SR 332. West of Scio, Harrison Co, Ohio.

Parking lot access from SR 151

50+ Presentations/Displays including:

- ~Recent timber harvest
- ~Oil/Gas industry insight
- ~Tree/shrub identification
- ~Value in Young Forest Habitat
- ~Tree felling demos
- ~Multiflora rose control
- ~The importance of watersheds
- ~Songbird identification hike
- ~Homemade charcoal demo
- ~Kids' activities
- ~Weed identification
- ~Crop tree release
- ~1899 Scio oil boom info
- ~Maple syrup from red maple

GPS Location: 40.408023, -81.104189 / Additional information: 614-212-3309

RSVP's appreciated: ohft2015@gmail.com

Food and Beverages Available for Purchase through Scio Amish Schools Benefit