President's Message:

"WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN . . ."

The year will soon be over. How swiftly flew the hours, the days, the months! An experience long to be remembered! Thank you for giving me one of the most exciting years of my life!

Our year is over now, but WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN . . .

. . . to implement the many changes recommended by the ad hoc committee.
. . . to let our voices be heard in the legislative process.
. . . to streamline the association's procedures.
. . . to meet the needs of our membership.
. . . to develop a job hotline service.
. . . to investigate salaries and benefits of all library employees.
. . . to improve our skills in librarianship through continuing education opportunities.
. . . to defend our beliefs in intellectual freedom.

The challenges are many for the ensuing year. We urge you all to try to meet them by continuing your support of OLA. Your membership and participation are its heartbeat. You are vital!

My thanks to all the division and roundtable officers, committee chairmen and members for performing their jobs so well! Special thanks to all the members of the OLA Executive Board for being so delightful to work with each and every month. You made my responsibilities so manageable. A warm note of appreciation to our Executive Secretary, Peggy Augustine, for performing her responsibilities with extreme efficiency and good humor. Thanks for your support!

Oklahoma's Diamond Jubilee

On November 16, 1982, Oklahoma will celebrate its 75th Anniversary of Statehood! It will be our "Diamond Jubilee." Gov. Nigh has designated the period from Nov. 16, 1981 to Nov. 16, 1982, as a time of statehood celebration.

Many activities are being planned throughout the state for the entire year. Each area is encouraged to celebrate its own particular 'spot.'

It is hoped the libraries will be involved in many different ways throughout the state. Different activities such as special reading programs on Oklahoma History and Oklahoma authors, photographic displays, and other special exhibits are just some of the ways the Diamond Jubilee might be celebrated in the libraries.

The kickoff will be on June 13 commemorating the Enabling Act. It will encompass a number of different events and regions representing different economic and interest groups.

A special engagement of the New York Company of "Oklahoma!" is being brought back by special arrangement to celebrate the anniversary of the state for which it was named. The show will open June 9 in Oklahoma City and run through June 14.

A major capital investment program for broad historical site and museum improvements is now going on through the Historical Society. A statewide public awareness program is going on also.

The Diamond Jubilee Commission, a panel of interested Oklahomans, has been appointed to provide primary leadership. They represent a broad range of leaders of Oklahoma.

The highlight of all the activities will be a giant celebration of our statehood at the Myriad, November 16, 1982. Gov. Nigh stated in his executive order creating the Diamond Jubilee Commission that there is a continuing need for Oklahomans to learn more about the fascinating history of this state, to compare the past with the present and apply it to the future.

A look at the purpose of the Diamond Jubilee

House Bill No. 1807 (1980), Section 6. There is hereby appropriated to the office of the Oklahoma Historical Society, from the unappropriated cash on hand in the Oklahoma Capital Improvement Fund of the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000), or so much thereof as may be required for the purposes of planning for and preliminary expenses of the 75th Anniversary of Oklahoma Statehood and for expenses of upgrading of state owned sites and museums.

By Executive Order 80-6, the Governor of the State of Oklahoma did order and direct that the Diamond Jubilee Commission of the State of Oklahoma be created and established. Subsequently fifty three (53) members with six (6) members selected from the congressional districts and seventeen (17) at large were appointed with terms to run to 16 November 1982.

A look back—June 16, 1906

After years of futile effort to obtain statehood, either as separate states, or as one, the word flashed from Washington on June 14, 1906 that the House of Representatives had voted (five to 22) passage of the Enabling Act. The act provided for calling a constitutional convention of 112 members — 55 each from Oklahoma and Indian Territories and two from the Osage Nation — to draft the fundamental law for admitting the state of Oklahoma to the Union. On June 16, 1906, President Theodore Roosevelt signed the act into law, laying down the procedure for establishing districts to elect the delegates to the convention. The seventy-fifth anniversary of this historic legislation that gave us a chance for statehood is June 16, 1981.

A look ahead — June 13, 1981

The statewide celebration commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of statehood will officially "kickoff" June 13, 1981. There is a dual purpose for this particular date — first, it is the weekend prior to the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Enabling Act and second, it is seventy-five weeks from the seventy-fifth anniversary of statehood. This concept of an anniversary countdown will be utilized throughout all promotions, newspaper columns and advertising.

A look at the kickoff activities —

Under the general supervision of the Oklahoma Diamond Jubilee Commission, the kickoff celebration is being spread out to encompass a number of different events and regions as well as representing different economic and interest groups in order to allow every Oklahoman to participate.

Activities which are currently in the planning stages for the June 13 kickoff can be grouped in the following broad categories:

1. Enabling Act (historical) — Special exhibit and recognition of the birth of Oklahoma through seventy-five years of growth at the State Museum of Oklahoma.
2. Wheat — Celebration is tentatively scheduled on a wheat farm in the Major County during harvest.
3. Cattle — Osage County Cattlemen’s Association Convention, ranch tour and art auction is scheduled for June 19.
4. Oil and Gas — A Diamond Jubilee rig raising celebration will be taking place in the Anadarko Basin.
5. Military — Special ceremonies will take place at Fort Sill.
6. Indian Heritage and Culture — Apache/Blackfoot Festival is planned in Anadarko.
7. Arts and Humanities — The Broadway musical "Oklahoma" will return to Oklahoma City.
8. Horse Industry — A Diamond Jubilee race will take off from the starting gates at Midway Downs Race track in Stroud.
9. Tourism — Discoveryland Outdoor Musicals in Tulsa will have a special June 13 performance.
10. Aviation — Commemorating the 50th anniversary of Wiley Post’s around the world flight, there will be festivities at the Aero Space Museum as well as Wiley Post Airport prior to the three pilots’ departure. They will be greeted with further activities at Shangri-la on Saturday night before leaving for New York City.

A look at the anniversary of statehood — November 16, 1982

Events, activities, and projects for the Diamond Jubilee will climax seventy-five weeks from the kickoff date (June 13, 1981) with a gala statehood celebration at the Myriad Convention Center on Saturday, November 13, 1982. Long after the curtain falls that evening on the Diamond Jubilee observance, the impact and significance of the projects during the seventy-fifth anniversary will continue.

For further information —

As activities and projects are scheduled and literature printed, they will be forwarded to you. If there are any questions do not hesitate to contact the Diamond Jubilee staff.

Committee on Professional Ethics
REPORT TO THE ALA MEMBERSHIP
June 30, 1980

From the time of its adoption by the ALA Council in 1975, the ALA Statement on Professional Ethics has been the object of intense criticism. Many critiques of the 1975 Statement have been received by the Committee on Professional Ethics — in letters to the Committee and in comments submitted at the Committee's open meetings in Midwinters and Annual Conferences and at a special hearing conducted at the 1976 Midwinter Meeting.

Following the 1976 hearing, the Committee attempted to revise the 1975 Statement to respond to members' suggestions. The result of the Committee's work was a draft revision which was distributed to the Council at the 1979 Annual Conference in Dallas. At that Conference, the Council voted to refer the revision to the Membership at the 1980 Annual Conference for discussion and advise to the Council.

The revision which is now before the Membership was transmitted in September of 1979 to all Councilors, ALA division presidents, ALA round table chairs, and ALA committee chairs. It was published in the December 1979 issue of AMERICAN LIBRARIES (p. 666).

Despite the fact that the revision was to be the item before the Membership at this meeting, the Committee on Professional Ethics wishes to call the attention of the Membership to the "Statement of Professional Responsibilities," which was prepared by the Committee at the 1980 Midwinter Meeting to reflect the concerns of ALA members with the 1975 Statement and the attempt to improve it.

On Thursday, June 26, the Committee on Professional Ethics sponsored a forum to which all respondents to any draft revisions of the Statement were invited. The result of the forum was to provide the Committee with guidelines that will facilitate the production of a draft for later consideration by the Membership.

The Committee on Professional Ethics suggests the following tentative plan of action:

- 1980 Annual Conference — The Committee on Professional Ethics works on a provisional draft statement.
- Fall 1980 — A provisional draft statement will be published and transmitted to all ALA councilors, divisions, round tables, and committees for comment at the 1981 Midwinter Meeting.
- 1981 Midwinter Meeting — The Committee on Professional Ethics plans to hold hearings and receive comments on the provisional statement.
- 1981 Annual Committee — The Committee on Professional Ethics discusses its final recommendation with the Membership.

The American Library Association has a special concern for the free flow of information and ideas. Its views have been set forth in such policy statements as the Library Bill of Rights and the Freedom to Read Statement where it has said clearly that in addition to the generally accepted legal and ethical principles and the respect for intellectual freedom which should guide the action of every citizen, membership in the library profession carries with it special obligations and responsibilities. Every citizen has the right as an individual to participate in public debate or to engage in social and political activity. The only restrictions on these activities are those imposed by specific and well-publicized laws and regulations which are generally applicable. However, since personal views and activities may be interpreted as representative of the institution in which a librarian is employed, proper precaution should be taken to distinguish between private actions and those one is authorized to take in the name of an institution.

The Statement which follows sets forth certain ethical norms which, while not exclusive to, are basic to librarianship. It will be augmented by explanatory interpretations and additional statements as they may be needed.

The Statement

A Librarian

Has a special responsibility to maintain the principles of the Library Bill of Rights.

Should learn and faithfully execute the policies of the institution of which he is a part and should endeavor to change those which conflict with the spirit of the Library Bill of Rights.

Must protect the essential confidential relationship which exists between a library user and the library.

Must avoid any possibility of personal financial gain at the expense of the employing institution.

Has an obligation to insure quality of opportunity and fair judgment of competence in actions dealing with staff appointments, rejections, and promotions.

Has an obligation when making appraisals of the qualifications of any individual to report the facts clearly, accurately, and without prejudice, according to generally accepted guidelines concerning the disclosing of personal information.

From A.L.A. . . .

Dear Friend:

Your association has engaged in an exciting new venture — one in which I hope you'll want to participate.

By this time next year ALA will have moved into its new headquarters. An impressive 56-story tower is now rising right next to our current building. ALA will own the first six floors of this new Chicago landmark.

Our new building has more than tripled the value of our undeveloped land, and also provides income potential for future AIA programs.

We have begun "Six Stories in Search of a Happy Ending." The structure itself is fully financed. Our campaign is seeking funding to equip and furnish ALA's new space, in order to better serve all of our members.

Your contribution to the 50 East Huron Fund can put the finishing touches on a new home for the American Library Association. Everyone who contributes will receive some recognition. A gift of $50, for example, will entitle the giver to a set of art prints specially commissioned for our new building.

It has been more than 20 years since ALA made such an appeal. I invite you to help to make this exceptional appeal a success. The enclosed materials give more details on this exciting undertaking.

Sincerely,
Peggy Sullivan

POLICY STATEMENT

Instruction in the Use of Libraries

Utilization of information is basic to virtually every aspect of daily living in a democratic society, whether in the formal pursuit of educational goals or in independent judgement and decision making. In our post-industrial, increasingly complex society, the need for information daily becomes greater.

Libraries are a major source of information; however, their effective use requires an understanding of how information is organized and how individuals can retrieve that information. Many individuals have an inadequate understanding of how to determine the type of information needed, locate the appropriate information, and use it to their best advantage.

Instruction in the use of libraries should begin during childhood years and continue as a goal of the formal educational process in order to prepare individuals for the independent information retrieval essential to sustain lifelong professional and personal growth.

It is essential that libraries of all types accept the responsibility of providing people with opportunities to understand the organization of information. The responsibility of educating users in successful information location demands the same administrative, funding, and staffing support as do more traditional library programs.

The American Library Association encourages all libraries to include instruction in the use of libraries as one of the primary goals of service.

Radcliffe Sponsors Programs on Women

Radcliffe College has been awarded a $250,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to help local communities develop programs about women. The project, entitled "Women in the Community: Where Were They? Where Are They? Where Are They Going?" will enable the Schlesinger Library to work with public libraries to be selected in seven communities throughout the country to prepare programs about women for local audiences.

The programs will be planned by local teams in each of the communities selected to participate in the project. Each team must include a public librarian, an academic librarian, a member of a community organization, and a women's studies scholar.

Four-member teams sponsored by a public library are invited to apply to a training session to be held at the Schlesinger Library in August, 1981. The sessions will include a discussion of how new knowledge about women is changing the perception of history and other academic disciplines, as well as training and practice in program planning and reaching the public.

After the training, the teams will return to their communities to plan and implement a series of programs to take place between February and July, 1982. A coordinator from Radcliffe will be working with the teams throughout this period. Seven teams will be selected nationally.

Travel expenses, room, and board will be provided for each of the participants in the training session. In addition, the sponsoring public libraries will be eligible for grants to meet the costs of delivering community programs. For further information, write to Barbara Haber, project director, NEH Library Humanities Project; Schlesinger Library, Radcliffe College; 10 Garden St., Cambridge, MA 02138.

In the Mailbag

My dear Aarone:

I am deeply grateful to you, and all the members of the Oklahoma Library Association for giving me the highly-prized Citizen Recognition Award at your annual dinner on March 20, 1981 in Oklahoma City.

To be singled out for so prestigious an honor by the Oklahoma Library Association is flattering enough, but to be coupled with such a distinguished recipient as Cleta Deatherage is overwhelming.

I can assure you and the Awards Committee that I shall do my utmost to prove that the confidence and trust you have shown is not misplaced. I am indeed happy and honored to be a recipient.

With warmest personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
Lillian B. Norberg

Dear Aarone Cornin:

Although I am a little slow in expressing my appreciation, I nevertheless am very grateful to the Oklahoma Library Association for its resolution of commendation for my work on the Oklahoma Image Materials Guide, and I shall treasure those kind words for a long time. It was my wish to provide a guide that would be useful to the general public and at the same time would attempt to create or perhaps renew interest in our state by making available and accessible the increasing fund of information about Oklahoma. If this purpose has been at least partially accomplished, I shall be satisfied.

I hope that librarians will find the Guide helpful, and, if so, that the Association will consider ways and means of keeping it up to date.

Again I thank the Library Association for its kind resolution of commendation, and I am grateful to you for sending it to me.

Sincerely yours,
Louise Welsh
