

Dr. Pearce is a passionate osteopathic physician who enjoys serving the osteopathic profession in many ways. She is a full-time faculty member in the Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine (OMM) department at Touro University California College of Osteopathic Medicine (TUC COM) and works with a dedicated team teaching osteopathic medical students during their journey to develop into excellent osteopathic physicians whether in primary care or specialty practice. She is a proud alumna of TUC COM, with Board Certification in Family Medicine with OMT (AOBFP) and Neuromusculoskeletal Medicine/Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine (NMM/OMM) through the AOBNMM after an additional year of residency training at St. Barnabas Hospital in Bronx, NY, and also a Diplomate of the American Board of Integrative and Holistic Medicine (ABIHM).

She appreciates the multi-faceted nature of the OPSC and has served in multiple capacities. Along with two three-year terms as a Board of Directors member with engagement in advocacy through the American Osteopathic Association House of Delegates (AOA HOD), she has participated in developing Continuing Medical Education (CME) for many OPSC conferences as past Chair and current member of the Education Committee.