

Dr. Hubka is a native of San Diego, California. She has received her education from various institutions, including a degree in Biochemistry and Nutrition Science from the University of California, a Masters of Science in Biology and Clinical Nutrition from the University of Bridgeport, and an osteopathic medical degree from Des Moines University. She has completed internships and residencies in obstetrics and gynecologic surgery at different hospitals.

Dr. Hubka is dual board-certified in obstetrics and gynecology by the American Osteopathic Association's Board of Osteopathic Obstetricians and Gynecologists (AOBOG) and the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology (ABOG). She is also affiliated with hospitals in Chicago, where she has served as the Program Director of the Ob/Gyn Residency program and continues to be involved in teaching.

In addition to her medical practice, Dr. Hubka is a Clinical Professor and Department Chair of Ob/Gyn at Midwestern University - Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine. She is actively involved in various professional organizations and has received numerous awards and recognition for her contributions to women's healthcare.

Dr. Hubka brings a wealth of experience and knowledge in women's health and is passionate about educating patients, nurses, students, and physicians.