Providence St. Vincent Negotiation Update

January 28, 2014

Providence St. Vincent Medical Center Staff Nurses:

Our contract has expired and your negotiating team needs your help to move the process along. We next meet for negotiations on January 30 and February 4.

We are asking all nurses to wear stickers that say "Respect Nurses" at work between now and February 4.

Your visible support in wearing a sticker will show the unity and willingness of the St. Vincent Nurses to support our negotiations to gain a fair contract.

Stickers are available on unit bulletin boards. If your unit is out, you can get more stickers from your negotiating team members or if you are unable to reach a member from your division, please contact Pat Sheridan-Walker at Sheridan-walker@oregonrn.org.

We will send a newsletter with further updates on negotiations after our next session.

Your negotiating team:

Glenda Peters, Phil D'Onofrio, John Smeltzer, Sonda Martin, Maryann Dutton, Robin First, Anne Byles, Pat Sheridan-Walker, Sally LaJoie
