

Shannon E. Mills, D.D.S., is Vice President for Professional Relations and Science, at Northeast Delta Dental in Concord, New Hampshire.

Prior to joining Delta Dental in 2007, Dr Mills was an Associate Professor and the Assistant Director of the Dental General Practice Residency Program at the University of Nevada School of Medicine.

In July of 2005, he retired from the U.S. Air Force as a colonel after 32 years of service. He served in military healthcare facilities in the US and overseas, gaining diverse experience in clinical dentistry, education, research and healthcare administration. His assignments included service as a medical inspector for the Air Force Inspector General, and as a member of the Air Force Surgeon General's staff. At the time of his retirement he was Deputy Staff Director of the Defense Medical Standardization Board for the Department of Defense.

He has authored or co-authored numerous scientific papers in peer-reviewed dental and scientific journals and is internationally recognized as an authority on dental infection control and safety. He served as the Chairman of the Organization for Safety, Asepsis and Prevention (OSAP) and remains an active member.

Dr. Mills is a consultant to the American Dental Association (ADA) Council on Scientific Affairs and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Division of Oral Health. He currently serves as Chairman of the ADA and American National Standards Institute Standards (ANSI) Committee for Dental Products. Dr. Mills is married to Anne Casey Mills, and has two sons, Patrick (age 31) Collin (age 27).