

Student Platform CE Rubric

Criterion	Excellent 4	Good 3	Fair 2	Poor 1
Proposal Title	Title is well written and helps summarize the main concept of the proposal.	Title represents the main concept of the proposal but may require minor adjustments.	The title has somewhat of a relation to the main concept of the proposal however major revisions are needed.	Title has no representation or relation to the main concept of the proposal and requires extensive revisions or modifications.
Program Description or Narrative	Program description or narrative describes the proposal and concept succinctly.	Program description or narrative generally describes the concept or proposal, but needs a few adjustments or student omits 1 piece of critical information.	Program description or narrative generally describes the proposal or concept but several revisions are needed or student omits more than 1 piece of critical information.	Program description or narrative is not well written and does not accurately describe the proposal or content, or student omits 2 or more critical pieces of information.
Learning objectives	The objective(s) for the proposal clearly and succinctly describe what the audience should learn from the session. Objectives are well written.	The objective(s) for the proposal generally describes what the audience should learn but revisions are needed.	The objective(s) for the proposal are unclear and needs extensive revisions.	The objective(s) for the proposal are missing or incomplete.
Relevance and Timeliness	The proposal presents current issues related to pharmacy that are considered relatively important to current day practice.	The proposal presents issues related to pharmacy within the past few years that are considered important to current day practice.	The proposal focuses on issues that are somewhat irrelevant for pharmacy practice.	The proposal focuses on issues that are completely irrelevant and has no importance to pharmacy practice.
Credibility	Information to be presented is based on the most current evidence-based medicine incorporating recent study or data.	Information to be presented is based on the most current evidence-based medicine but has studies or data that is outdated.	Most of the information to be presented is based on outdated studies, guidelines, or other data.	All information to be presented lacks credibility as information is based on outdated studies, guidelines, or other data.