Come join the fun this January! If you have any questions, please contact Raehannah Jamshidi, Ph.D., at jamshidi@livemail.uthscsa.edu.

Promote Your Research

Did you publish an article? APSA would like to promote the work done by Physician Scientist Trainees. Let us know about papers you've published that we can promote on social media! Submit a form and we'll get the word out!

Face of the Physician Scientist Trainee

Everyone's story is unique and captivating and physician-scientist trainees are no exception. APSA wants to highlight the amazing breadth of stories and research being done by trainees across the country in a new program called the Face of the Physician Scientist Trainee. Send us a photo of yourself (whether it be science-related or doing some other interest like a hobby, favorite activity, or just being goofy), along with two paragraphs about your story and current research, so we could highlight and feature them on our website. Interested? E-mail your responses to Vadim Yerokhin

Sincerely,

The American Physician Scientists Association (APSA)

The American Physician Scientists Association \(APSA\) is dedicated to addressing the needs of future physician scientists with a focus on training and career development. APSA focuses its priorities in the four pillars of mentoring, networking, outreach, and resources.
