DATE: May 25
TO: advisors/officers
SUBJECT: Benefit From International Chapter Relationships!

Benefit From International Chapter Relationships!
Psi Chi’s new International Partners and Leaders (IPALs) program lets your chapter formally partner with an international chapter. Expand your chapter’s network. By joining IPALs, you and your members can obtain new perspectives in psychology.

To learn more, see this new IPALs recording led by Psi Chi’s International Advisory Committee. We are proud to provide this unique opportunity to establish new personal connections. Ready to become an IPALs chapter?

Psich Covid-19 Member Support Fund
Please take advantage of our fund to benefit students during COVID-19. See how you can help your student members with the Psich Covid-19 Member Support Fund. You can also support the fund.
Graduation is right around the corner! Celebrate by purchasing a Psi Chi bracelet through Herff Jones. A leading custom U.S. jeweler.

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Call for Collaborative Research Proposals!
Psi Chi is seeking research proposals from students and faculty for our guided, cross-cultural 2021–22 NICE:CROWD Research Project. One or two proposals will be accepted, and research contributors are also wanted. Proposals are due July 31.

Benefits of participating in this guided research opportunity include accessible materials and protocols, increased diversity of study samples, and publication opportunities after data is collected. Learn more.

ADVERTISEMENTS
I/O Psychology Webinar: Cross-Cultural Teams
High performing teams happen by design, not accident. They are structured, informed, competent, and intradependent. During this event presented by CSPP Alliant University, Dr. Kasia Fuiks will facilitate a discussion on cultural norms and their proximity in high performing teams utilizing research and personal narratives. Learn more and RSVP today.

- Getting Tenure Podcast Episode
  Drs. Guy A. Boysen and Michael E. Hahn weigh in on whether you are really on the “right track” to obtaining tenure.

- Fostering Resilience in College Students Amid COVID-19
  Read Denise Caballea and Rita M. Rivera’s strategies for instructors and institutions to nurture student resilience.

LATEST NEWS

Passionate About Diversity and Social Justice?
Psi Chi’s Diversity Director applications are open now through June 30. Receive a $2,000 annual stipend (paid quarterly) and the opportunity to ensure that our Society reflects the rich diversity of people and perspectives in psychology.

See You This Week at APS!
We are eager to hear Dr. Alfiee Breland-Noble’s Psi Chi Distinguished Lecture at the virtual APS Convention. Join us to learn about using authenticity when supporting mental health and social justice during COVID-19.
End-of-Semester Reminders

- Advisors, please finalize all unpaid member invoices in our online View/Process Members system.
- Officers, set aside some time to train your replacements.
- Everyone, remind your graduating seniors to update their email addresses so that we can stay in contact with them regarding their lifetime membership benefits as graduate students and/or alumni.

More Grad School Applicants, Less Work for You
Streamline your graduate psychology program’s application process and increase your applicant pool. Join PSYCAS today.