DATE: August 17
TO: alumni
SUBJECT: Introducing Your New Alumni Member Webpage

Introducing Your New Alumni Member Webpage
See a basic overview of ongoing alumni opportunities and pro tips to reconnect with Psi Chi. You will also find hotlinks to popular resources regarding careers, diversity, etc. Access this page anytime at psichi.org on the main menu bar under “MEMBER.” Visit your new page.

Call for Psych-Related Film Critiques
Alumni, tell us what you think about recent films and TV series regarding their depictions of psychology and mental health. Write 800 to 1,500 words for our blog. Personal experiences and citations to the DSM-5 and/or research findings are encouraged. One submitter by November 1 will be randomly selected to receive a $25 Amazon gift card. See our guidelines.
At Psi Chi we believe in community and the advancement of psychology. Why not show your support by purchasing the PsychEverywhere T-shirt? Show how we are “Enhancing Our World With Psychological Science!”

UPCOMING EVENT

Dr. David Myers Discusses Misinformation
Join a trailblazer in psychology to learn how misinformation affects educators and students seeking to become truth-discerning critical thinkers. September 8 at 3 p.m. EST. Spaces are limited. Register today.

ADVERTISEMENTs

Spotting Normal vs. Abnormal Behavior
Dr. Harris O’Brien spoke with mental health resource @medcircle about identifying the signs of normal vs. abnormal behavior in children and adolescents. Watch the full conversation.

The Power of Storytelling
Dr. Matthew Genuchi spoke with mental health resource @medcircle about social psychology and understanding the impacts of the world around you. Watch the full conversation.
LATEST NEWS

• Mark your calendar for September 4, Psi Chi’s 92nd Anniversary. See our History Timeline.

• New there are more ways to give to Psi Chi, and you get to choose the impact you’d like to make. Give easily online today.

• Join us in congratulating the new Psi Chi Presidential Citation Recipients on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram.