DATE: February 15
TO: Alumni
SUBJECT: Black History Month Video Contest

Psychology Meets Black History Month Video Contest
Create a video on a psychological topic or a Black psychologist whose work influenced the field for Black History Month.
- Length: under 5 minutes.
- Winner chosen by the Psi Chi Diversity Advisory Committee.
- Due February 23 at 11:59 pm EST.
- Winning video will receive $300.
- Most YouTube likes will win $200.
- Contest guidelines here.

2020–21 Annual Report Arrives!
Explore Psi Chi’s efforts to set its sights on hope with psychological science. The new report uncovers Dr. Deborah Harris O’Brien’s #PsychologyHasAnswers Presidential Theme, the COVID-19 Member Support Fund, and many other members’ and leaders’ achievements. Download the PDF.

LATEST NEWS

New Psi Chi Grants for Teachers of Psychology!
Covers the costs of books, conference attendance, workshops, licensure preparation, and professional activities. All members who hold a current, psychological teaching position are eligible, so apply by March 15.

“Where Are They Now” Alumni Survey
Thank you to all alumni who took our survey in November. Interested in current demographics of Psi Chi and what our alums are up to? You can now see the results and check it out for yourself!

“Psi Chi Central Office” Is Now “Psi Chi Headquarters”
The Board of Directors recently moved to rename the “Psi Chi Central Office” to “Psi Chi Headquarters.” Use of this new name on emails, publications, stationery, website, etc. will begin rolling out in the coming months.

LIVE EVENTS

Complimentary Continuing Education Units
Psi Chi and California School of Professional Psychology (CSPP) have partnered to provide Psi Chi members an opportunity for 6 complimentary CE units on the topic “Suicide: Assessment, Prevention & Intervention.” Log in HERE to receive your course access code.

Learn How to Harness the Power of Intention
CSPP is excited to present a virtual event that will give you tools for personal and professional growth. Join Dr. Ian D. Brooks as he explores using one element of story, the power of intention, for growth and transformation. February 23 at 4 p.m. PT. Share this flyer and RSVP today.

So You Need to Write a Literature Review
Join APA Style experts as they outline key tasks in writing an effective literature review. March 16 at 3 p.m. EST. Share this flyer with your students. Sponsored by APA Style. Spaces are limited, register today.
• Does Learning and Texting Mix?
  Podcast: Dr. Seungyeon Lee discusses how using your phone in the classroom can influence your ability to process and retain new information.

• Getting Into the Swing of Mentorship
  Article: Dr. June Gruber unpacks the importance of safe spaces with adequate support and training for mentees.

• Increasing the Representation of Diversity in the Psi Chi Journal
  Editorial: Dr. Steve Rouse outlines strategies to embrace diverse authors, reviewers, and research in Psi Chi Journal.

---

Early Access to DELL’s Presidents’ Day Sale
Need a new laptop, desktop, webcam, or other tech item? Psi Chi members get MPP early access now through Feb 16, with more deals continuing through Feb. 24. Be sure to shop early before available quantities sell out. Learn more.