DATE: September 26
TO: students, officers, and faculty
SUBJECT: Illuminate the Unknown! Research Grants for Your Psychology Passions

Illuminate the Unknown!
Research Grants to Advance Your Psychology Passions

Think about any question in life that fascinates you. A research project could help you gain understanding about your question while also providing experiences for your resumé and future career.

To support your next research project, Psi Chi annually provides 50+ Undergraduate Research Grants, 43+ Graduate Research Grants, and 33 Faculty Stipends for the sponsors of the highest scoring undergraduate applications—each worth up to $1,500. See these tips to get the maximum funding:

- Total funds are divided across three deadlines (Oct. 15, Jan. 15, and May 1), so reapply if you aren’t selected the first time!
- Students can request an additional $2,000 for financial hardships.
- Research related to Diversity or Field Research in Social Psychology is also eligible for topic-centric grant funding.
You can also apply for Super Lab Research Grants (due Oct. 15) and many other awards, grants, and scholarships for convention travel, school expenses, etc. See all opportunities.

Note. Shown above are recent research grant recipients (from left): Christian Beltran (undergraduate student), Linda Jones, PhD (undergraduate faculty sponsor), and Ann Schlotzhauer (graduate student).

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Gain Research Experience With Psi Chi!
Undergraduates, graduate students, and faculty are invited to join the 2023–24 Psi Chi CROWD Collaborative Research Project. The project examines the role of culture on perceptions of college students’ retrospective reflection on victimization by primary and secondary school teachers. Contributors are asked to commit to preparing their campus IRB protocol, collecting 100–250 responses from college students, and, if necessary, translating the measures (currently in English). Learn more about this project and email NICE Chair Brianna Fitapelli to get started!

CLEARANCE SALE

Now through October 31, receive 15% off on all Clearance products in the Psi Chi Store. Items may sell out quickly, so order your new Psi Chi ’29 Joggers, “Not a Psychic” T-shirt, or other items today. The discount will automatically appear at checkout, and you can save an additional $2 to $4 with the new USPS Ground Advantage shipping order. Happy shopping!
CHAPTER GROWTH

Good Friends Tell Their Pals About Psi Chi
Do all your psychology friends know that Psi Chi builds lifelong professional relationships and opportunities that guide people toward their unique calling in life? As many local chapters launch their fall recruitment drives, please help your chapter grow by encouraging psychology majors and minors to join Psi Chi. Share about Society-wide membership benefits, along with any upcoming local meetings and events. Thank you!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Want to help Psi Chi uphold election integrity? Email Dr. Merry Sleigh by Sept. 30 to nominate a faculty member to serve on Psi Chi's Nominations/Elections Committee.

- Remember to attend any upcoming local chapter meetings so that you can participate in voting on this year's Constitution Changes. Deadline: Sept. 30.

- Students: Write an essay about thriving in careers with an associate or bachelor's degree in psychology for the CABE Essay Competition. 750 words max. Deadline: Oc. 10.

- Join us in congratulating Dr. Martha S. Zlokovich on her retirement, and please give a warm welcome to new Executive Director Dr. Marianne Fallon.
Start Your Grad School Application Now for Fall 2024!
California Lutheran University's Graduate School of Psychology offers an APA-accredited Doctorate in Clinical Psychology, and two Master of Science programs: one in Counseling Psychology (MFT), and one in Clinical Psychology. APPLY NOW.