SUBJECT: Are Your Students Learning About Race?

Are Your Students Learning About Race?

Psi Chi urges instructors to include lessons about racial issues in ALL future courses! Here are three free resources that you can share around your psychology department and in your fall classes:

- What Should You Say When Asked If You See Race?
Podcast Episode with Beverly Daniel Tatum, PhD author of Why Are All the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria?
- Do You Recognize Your Implicit Biases?
Magazine Interview with Mahzarin Banaji, PhD coauthor of Blindspot: Hidden Biases of Good People
- Applying Social Justice Principles and Strategies
Webinar with Diversity Director Susanna Gallor, PhD author of A Social Justice Approach to Undergraduate Psychology Education

See Psi Chi's new online resource for our official statement on social unrest. Suggestions for race-related chapter activities are also included. Thank you!
