

Online research methods workshops 2020 - 2021

The Society for Psychotherapy Research UK Chapter is proud to offer a series of online research method workshops to develop your research skills and gain new perspectives on project design. Expert psychotherapy researchers will talk about pressing issues and new methods on the basis of their current research. The workshops are open to both novice and experienced psychotherapy researchers.

The cost of each individual workshop is £25, however the whole suite of workshops are available free of charge to SPR members. Follow this link to learn more about membership of the SPR.

All workshop times are UK Time.
