New Member Announcement

Richmond Gastroenterology Associates is pleased to welcome Jason D. Adam, MD

Dr. Jason D. Adam is originally from Pennsylvania, but after receiving his bachelors of Science in Biology at William and Mary in Williamsburg, then his medical school education, internal medicine internship, and residency training at the Medical College of Virginia at Virginia Commonwealth University, he considers himself a full-fledged Virginian. His Gastroenterology and Hepatology fellowship was recently completed at George Washington University.

As part of Richmond Gastroenterology Associates, he will be focusing on gastroesophageal reflux disease (GERD), esophageal swallowing disorders, esophageal cancer/Barrett's esophageal screening and management. Additionally, he has an interest in gastric cancer screening, liver diseases, hepatitis, irritable bowel syndrome, chronic diarrhea/constipation, as well as inflammatory bowel disease (Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis).

Dr. Adam performs colonoscopy and colon polyp removal, upper endoscopy (EGD), esophageal manometry, achalasia balloon dilations and Barrett's esophageal radiofrequency ablation.

He has memberships in American College of Gastroenterology, the American Gastroenterology Association and the American Society for Gastrointestinal Endoscopy.

Dr. Adam is excited to be back in the Richmond area with his family. He is accepting new patients and referrals at Richmond Gastroenterology Associates.
