Radiology Associates of Richmond is pleased to welcome

Pankaj Kaushal, MD

Dr. Pankaj Kaushal is a board certified Vascular & Interventional Radiologist practicing at Spotsylvania Regional Medical Center in Fredericksburg, VA. He is also affiliated with multiple hospitals in the Richmond area, including Chippenham & Johnston-Willis Hospitals, Henrico Doctors’ Hospital, John Randolph Medical Center, Bon Secours Southside Medical Center and Bon Secours Southern Virginia Medical Center.

Prior to joining Radiology Associates of Richmond in 2021, Dr. Kaushal worked as a Vascular & Interventional Radiologist on the Eastern Shore of Maryland where he started a comprehensive liver directed therapy program for patients with liver cancer.

He specializes in minimally invasive, image-guided procedures that help treat a variety of medical problems. He has special interest in interventional oncologic treatments (including Y-90 radioembolization, transarterial chemoembolization, and percutaneous tumor ablations), uterine artery embolization for symptomatic fibroids, kyphoplasty and vertebroplasty for spinal compression fractures, and vascular disorders.

Dr. Kaushal attended the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC) and then completed medical school at George Washington University in Washington, DC. After an internship in Internal Medicine at University of Maryland Medical Center, he did his residency training in Radiology at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, DC where he was awarded the Roentgen Resident/Fellow Research Award. He completed a Vascular and Interventional Radiology fellowship at Rush University Medical Center in Chicago, IL.

He speaks multiple languages, including Hindi and Punjabi. In his spare time, he likes to cook, golf, and spend time with family and friends.

Please join us in welcoming Dr. Pankaj Kaushal to Richmond Academy of Medicine
