Virginia Cancer Institute
is pleased to welcome

Bruce Hough, MD

Dr. Bruce Hough received his undergraduate degree from the University of Florida, his medical degree from the University of South Florida College of Medicine, and became an Internal Medicine resident at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center shortly thereafter. He worked for 5 years as a general Internal Medicine doctor before going back to do a Hematology/Oncology fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh. In 2010, Dr. Hough worked at St. Joseph's Hospital where he was on the Breast Program Leadership Committee, co-chair of the Baycare Lab Quality Committee, participated in Baycare's tri-county IRB program, and staffed the bleeding disorder clinic. He attended a number of weekly tumor boards throughout this time and initiated, developed, and staffed an outlying infusion center.

Dr. Hough's array of experiences in practice and research make him uniquely equipped to provide his patients with a well-rounded care plan that is tailored to their needs. Dr. Hough is interested in gardening and beekeeping and enjoys spending time with his wife and three children during his off hours.
