Robert J. Dausch, MD

Hanover Family Physicians,
A division of Virginia Physicians, Inc.

Dr. Robert Dausch received his Bachelor of Science degree in Biology, graduating summa cum laude, from James Madison University. He earned his Doctor of Medicine from the University of Maryland School of Medicine and completed his internal medicine residency at Medical College of Virginia. He is board certified in internal medicine.

As an internist, Dr. Dausch has a special interest in not only preventive care, but also caring for the chronic conditions that affect the health of adults, such as diabetes, high blood pressure, heart problem and breathing issues.

He had his own practice for over 15 years, but left it to work a reduced schedule to care for his 2 children after they got out of school several years ago. Running his "daddy daycare" has been a very rewarding experience for him and his family.

Besides spending time with his wife and children, he is an avid sports enthusiast and enjoys taking vacations with his family to warm, sunny locations.
