Pamela Sabin Recognition Champion Award

Pamela Sabin was a founding member of NAER, a charter member of the Board of Directors, and a true champion of employee recognition. She was instrumental in the development and initiation of the Recognition Champion Program. In 2001, Pamela passed away after a hard-fought battle with leukemia. In recognition to Pamela, this award has been named in her honor. All recipients should feel honored and challenged to maintain the high integrity and passion that Pamela demonstrated for employee recognition.

Award recipients are encouraged to take an active role in promoting recognition through NAER leadership opportunities. Criteria of a true recognition champion is an individual who:

- Passionately believes in the principles of recognition.
- Takes the initiative to spread the message throughout their entire organization.
