

OUR MISSION: Restaurant Facility Management Association (RFMA) represents a group of facility professionals and their companies dedicated to advancing industry awareness of restaurant facility management, while promoting professional and ethical standards to serve the customer with added value .

EDUCATION

CRFP: Certified Restaurant Facility Professional

RFMA has developed a certification program which provides access to the first restaurant facilities management professional designation. We are also excited to announce the launch of our CRFP Exam Online Prep Course. These 14 learning modules will help prepare your for the CRFP exam, as well as, serve as a great resource for all facilities professionals.

Facilitator Magazine, Our Official Publication

Published six times per year, our magazine is an excellent resource for RFMA news, educational articles, up to date developments and the very latest trends in the world of restaurant facility management.

RFMAONLINE.COM

Broaden your network. Share real experience and best practices, timely information on new products and services to help maintain your facilities. InSite, our exclusive online community, is your insider's social network, where you can form groups, join forums, blog, comment, post photos, and more.

RFMA GIVES

Our industry gives us so much so we want to give back through RFMA Gives. With our first project completed in 2011, each year we select a charitable shelter or kitchen that's in need of repairs or remodeling. We are very excited about planning for our next RFMA Gives project in San Diego. We look forward to finding a project where RFMA members can come together to make a difference in the San Diego community.
