Retention of Military Commissaries as an Incentive Resolution No. 17-18

WHEREAS, more than any other benefit, the commissary privilege uniquely epitomizes the nation's gratitude for the hardships which our men and women in uniform are called upon to endure, adding greatly to its perceived value; and

WHEREAS, the commissary is a symbol of parity to Reserve and National Guard members, who fought for years for access equal to those who serve on Active duty; and

WHEREAS, the commissary system, in which products are sold at cost with an added surcharge to defray facility expenditures, is cost-effective; and

WHEREAS, each defense dollar invested in the commissary is leveraged into a benefit, which in its effect on recruitment and retention of personnel, has a dollar value many times greater than the actual DoD cost; and

WHEREAS, commissaries in highly populated areas, where there are competing commercial supermarkets, produce commissary income needed to sustain commissaries in less populated areas and overseas locations where acquisition or transportation expenses elevate operational costs; and

WHEREAS, DoD cost-cutting efforts have produced a number of proposals, e.g., eliminating commissaries in metropolitan areas, significantly increasing the surcharge paid by military retirees, and operating commissaries in conjunction with or like exchanges as a non-appropriated fund activity which would significantly change this cost-effective benefit,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, chartered by Congress, urge the Congress to reject any change that would degrade the effectiveness of the commissary system as an incentive for recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel in the military.
