

Hardcover, 9781526194480,
£90.00

eBook, 9781526194473, £90.00

Date: November 2026

Pages: 262

Parliament and politics in revolutionary Britain and Ireland, 1640-60

Edited by Alex Beeton

DESCRIPTION

Parliament and politics in revolutionary Britain and Ireland, 1640-60 considerably advances our understanding of Parliament's place in seventeenth-century political culture and of the political practices which informed British and Irish political life between 1640 and 1660. Ten scholars offer a range of innovative perspectives on Parliament in the revolutionary era. Each chapter provides important historiographical interventions which cumulatively construct a new perspective on Parliament during the most tumultuous period of its history. Read together, the contributions to this volume demonstrate the benefits of returning to the study of parliamentary history with the lessons of recent scholarship in mind while also showing the value of reincorporating a focus on the institution of Parliament into discussions of the mid-seventeenth century.

AUTHOR/EDITOR BIOGRAPHY

Alex Beeton is Research Fellow at the History of Parliament Trust

Get 30% off this title when you order through the MUP website.

Simply add code EVENT30 at checkout.

*P&P not included.

176 Waterloo Place, The University of Manchester, Oxford Road, Manchester, M13 9GP
e: mup@manchester.ac.uk | w: www.manchesteruniversitypress.co.uk