

RSA Annual Meeting Audio and Video Recording Policy

Audio recording, video recording, and live broadcasting of sessions at RSA San Francisco 2026 are not permitted without the prior express consent of speakers and audience members, in order to protect the privacy and intellectual property rights of conference participants. Violators will be asked to leave the conference and may be barred from attending future RSA conferences.

Attendees agree not to record, publish, distribute, share, resell, or in any other way exploit the content of this event, whether pre-circulated or live. In addition to the academic content, this also applies to links and URLs for RSA San Francisco 2026. Event presentations and materials are the original works of authorship and the individual property of the respective presenters and should be referenced as such.

In rare circumstances, members of the media may record short pieces designed to convey the conference atmosphere. Such arrangements must be made through the Renaissance Society of America and require the consent of all speakers at a session. When recording is approved, a representative of the Renaissance Society of America will accompany the reporter and crew. The session organizer will announce to the audience that audio or video recording will take place during a part of the session. Only background recording is allowed, not the recording of an entire session. Requests for exceptions must be made in writing to the Renaissance Society of America and relevant speakers at least thirty (30) days before the conference.

Members of the media may occasionally record short segments at non-session events, such as receptions. Such arrangements must be made through the Renaissance Society of America.

To report a violation of these terms and conditions, or to share questions or comments, please contact by email the RSA Executive Director, Carla Zecher (czecher@rsa.org); the President of the RSA Board of Directors, Herman Bennett (hbennett@gc.cuny.edu); or the RSA Director of Meetings, Tracy Robey (trobey@rsa.org).
