A trained, high-caliber workforce contributes to the overall strength of injury and violence prevention research, interventions and the field as a whole. Injury and violence prevention workforce development is necessary to enlarge the pool of skilled and competent professionals, build capacity for injury and violence prevention, and draw talented professionals to this field.

Engage with Your Peers

Join a Special Interest Group

Special Interest Groups (SIGs) are forums open to Safe States Alliance members who share similar interests or specialties in the field of injury and violence prevention. Open only to Safe States members, SIGs provide members with an opportunity to exchange ideas and stay informed about current developments in their fields.

To join a SIG, click on its link and email the Chair or Safe States staff is also happy to assist - all you have to do is share your interest!

Current SIGs

Hospital Injury Prevention

The purpose of this SIG is to provide a forum for Safe States members with experience in hospital trauma to express ideas, learn of best practices, and contribute to expert discussions with peers and colleagues. It is also a great way to stay informed about current developments and build a network of professional contacts in this field.

Partner & Sexual Violence

The Partner & Sexual Violence SIG provides a forum for Safe States members to discuss and share program strategies, resources and policy initiatives aimed at reducing Partner and Sexual Violence. Through the PSVP SIG, members can engage with colleagues in violence prevention as they develop informational briefs, promote evidence-based interventions, promote educational opportunities, develop innovative policy change strategies, and develop unifying messages for social norms change to prevent partner and sexual violence.

State Designated Representatives

The State Designated Representative SIG provides an organized forum where the State Designated Representatives can: (1) share their professional activities and studies through meetings, publications, training and other organized activities; (2) advise the Executive Committee of Safe States on matters pertaining to state health department injury and violence prevention programs; (3) organize technical programs for state injury and violence prevention program directors; (4) collect and disseminate information concerning state injury and violence prevention programs; and (5) represent Safe States through national activities, either as a group or through one of its members, at the request of the Executive Committee of Safe States staff.

Don't see a topic of interest? Any member can start a SIG by joining with other members interested in a similar topic. Contact Safe States staff to help you get started.

Share Your Expertise

Join a Committee

Safe States has five committees that make use of members' professional expertise while providing leadership opportunities for our members within Safe States and to the injury and violence prevention field. Safe States recognizes the importance of diversity on these committees, and the personal commitment and contribution of time.

With the exception of the Executive Committee, all members are eligible and encouraged to join any of the other five committees on a rolling basis by emailing the committee chair or Safe States staff.

The Executive Committee provides leadership and direction for programs, committees, activities and events. Representatives are member-elected, and elections occur in the spring/summer of each year. All members are encouraged to nominate and/or run for a position on the Executive Committee as positions are opened annually. If holding a position is not right for you at the time, be sure to cast your vote for others.

Current Committees

The Annual Meeting Planning Committee:

- Develops the theme of the Annual Meeting
- Plans the activities for the Annual Meeting, including both educational and social activities
- Plans the schedule for the Annual Meeting
- Reviews and selects abstract submissions for concurrent poster sessions for the annual meeting

The Concept Development Committee:

- Provide feedback on written concept proposals
- Develop and prioritize ideas for potential Safe States projects and concepts for public and private funders.
- Research and discuss emerging injury and violence prevention topics

The Finance/Audit Committee:

- Monitors compliance with established financial policies and procedures
- Monitors expenditures and recommends budget revisions for the Executive Committee
- Coordinates annual independent audits
- Reviews and updates the reserves policy
- Develops recommendations for reinvesting investment income in line with the investment policy

The Membership Development Committee:

- Facilitates membership orientation sessions
- Plans and facilitates social functions for Annual Meetings
- Supports a membership dues strategy
- Engages members to serve on committees and workgroups and develops opportunities for leadership development
- Assists with identification and development of new resources and tools that respond to member and overall IVP field needs

The Policy Committee:

- Develops the annual policy agenda for the Safe States Alliance
- Develops and recommends policy and position statements to address injury and violence-related issues
- Plans an annual “Hill Day” for members to visit Capitol Hill and educate Congress about injury and violence prevention activities, challenges, and successes
