Drug Screening Today: What's the Latest?

Presented by Brian P. Feeley & Jackie Pirone, OraSure Technologies

This presentation will highlight the trends in types of substance abuse testing performed, what methods are being used, and how employers are planning to approach testing procedures in the future.

Topics covered include:

- A review of drug testing panel options
- The pros and cons of different testing methodologies
- Market drivers and trends
- What's on the horizon

Brian P. Feeley is currently the National Corporate Accounts Manager for OraSure Technologies' Substance Abuse Testing Division. He has over 35 years of experience in the industry, working in technical, business development, and sales and marketing capacities. Brian has been at OraSure Technologies for the past 21 years, where he has focused on the launch and applications of oral fluid-based drugs of abuse, alcohol, and nicotine testing products.

Jackie Pirone is the Program Leader for OraSure Technologies' Substance Abuse Testing and Insurance Risk Division. Jackie has over 20 years of experience in the drug testing industry, working at OraSure for the past 9 years and with Roche Diagnostics Corporation for 15 years prior to joining OraSure. She is responsible for the global direction as well as the financial and market growth of the drugs of abuse and insurance risk product lines.
