

Employment of Second-Year Radiography Students

Second-year radiography students enrolled in accredited radiography programs may apply for a temporary limited radiography certificate with documentation of completion of the competency levels of a Limited Radiographer – General from the program director.

The temporary certificate will be in effect for a period of two years, or until which time the student graduates from the two-year program. At the time of graduation, they will then apply for a temporary Radiographer (Full) certificate which will become permanent upon successful passing of the ARRT examination.

The temporary Limited Radiographer – General certificate will enable the student to become employed as a Radiographer with the limitations as defined in the scope of practice for the Limited Radiographer.

FAQs:

- Documentation should include a copy of the signed competency checklist and a letter signed by the program director stating that the student is enrolled in the program, has completed the competency levels of a Limited Radiographer-General.
- The student must pay $50 upon application of the temporary certificate
- Upon graduation from the program, the student should apply for a temporary Radiography certificate. They would need to pay the $50 application fee, complete the application and include a copy of their diploma/certificate or a letter from the program director.
- Upon successful completion of the ARRT registry, they would send a copy of their ARRT card to SCROSA with the request to change their Temporary Radiography certificate to a permanent Radiography Certificate. The upgrade is free.
