Society for the Exploration of Psychotherapy Integration
Nineteenth Annual Conference
A Dialogue on Difference
May 2-4, 2003
New York, New York

Dear Colleagues:

The Society for the Exploration of Psychotherapy Integration (SEPI) proudly welcomes you to its nineteenth annual conference. SEPI is an international organization formed in 1983 to promote integration across theoretical perspectives. SEPI provides a collaborative and open community for clinicians and scholars who wish to explore the limitations of single school perspectives and who are interested in learning alternative ways of working with patients and thinking about clinical phenomena. The collegial atmosphere of a SEPI conference is a prized component of our organization.

The theme of this year's conference, A Dialogue on Difference, is especially appropriate to SEPI's purposes. The aim for the Conference is to establish an open dialogue that emphasizes the exploration of differences as well as unrecognized similarities among the wide variety of perspectives on theory and technique. Difference is often associated with the notion of "otherness"—with what is foreign, distant, or unfamiliar. Therefore, in addition to discussions of theory and technique, there will be presentations on age, cultural, racial, religious, socioeconomic, sexual, and gender differences. We also include presentations on the differences among individual, couple, family, and group psychotherapies. Finally, the Conference also includes workshops on clinical work within diverse theoretical frameworks. By creating a forum for a frank discussion of differences, we hope to establish a richer, more nuanced understanding of the psychotherapy process while clarifying where apparent differences may obscure clinically important common ground.

On behalf of The Society for the Exploration of Psychotherapy Integration, we welcome you to our nineteenth annual Conference.
