

Workforce Development and the Standards and Conformity Assessment Professional

Thursday August 9, 2018

8:00 AM—12:00 PM

There is no fee to attend this workshop.

Registration is required - Visit the Annual Conference registration details on www.ses-standards.org

© 2018 SES—The Society for Standards Professionals

www.ses-standards.org

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

There is growing evidence that a mismatch exists between the skills possessed by much of the U.S. workforce and the skills required by U.S. employers. What are the knowledge, skills and abilities needed for today's standards and conformity assessment professionals? What are important competencies for college graduates, as well as new, mid-career and senior professionals needed to succeed in the 21st century standardization workforce. Do different roles require different competencies? Join our elite group of speakers for half a day as we explore these questions together.

- ❖ Moderator introduction & workshop kickoff
- ❖ Expert Panel Q&A on the Future of the Standards and Conformity Assessment Professional
- ❖ Interactive session on knowledge, skills and abilities
- ❖ Roundtable discussions
- ❖ Conclusions & takeaways

SPEAKERS & PANELISTS

Our distinguished panelists have deep expertise in credentialing and workforce development.

MODERATOR:

Jonathan Stewart, NEMA

PANELISTS:

Sara Meier, MCI USA

Simmi Singh, Egon Zehnder

Roy Swift, WorkCred

Walter Zoller, Rockwell Automation

