

The Society of Investigative Dermatology (SID) announces the appointment of Mark C. Udey, M.D., Ph.D. as Editor-Elect of the Journal of Investigative Dermatology (JID).

His official term as Editor begins on June 1, 2017.

Dr. Udey is a member of the SID and the European Society for Dermatologic Research (ESDR), and he has actively participated in the SID and the JID throughout his career. He is the immediate Past-President of the SID and a former member of the SID Board of Directors (2007-2012), and he Co-Chaired the SID Scientific Program Committee in 2006. In addition to serving as a frequent contributor to, and reviewer for, the JID, Dr. Udey has been an Associate (1997-2002) and a Section (2002-2007) Editor, and he is currently an Associate Editor (2012-present). Dr. Udey also has extensive prior editorial experience in association with other highly-regarded, peer-reviewed journals. He functioned as an Associate Editor for the Journal of Immunology from 1995-1998 and as a Section Editor from 1998-2001. This experience overlapped with a term as a Member of the Board of Consulting Editors of the Journal of Clinical Investigation (JCI); 1998-2010), and he is currently a Consulting Editor for the recently launched journal JCI Insight. Dr. Udey has additionally participated in the international investigative dermatology community as a Member of the International Advisory Board of the Journal of Dermatology (Japan) and as a Member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Dermatological Science (Japan).

Dr. Udey has led a vigorous independent laboratory-based research program for more than 30 years. He trained at Washington University in St. Louis and initiated his research career at that institution. In 1989, Dr. Udey was recruited to the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda where he is now Chief of the Dermatology Branch and a Deputy Director of NCI's Center for Cancer Research. At NCI, Dr. Udey has focused on dendritic cell and epithelial cell biology and cutaneous immunophysiology more globally. He is an elected member of the American Society of Clinical Investigation, an elected member of the American Association of Physicians and a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

