

Tips for Obtaining Scholarships

Through your generous donations our Foundation is able to provide more scholarships at a greater value in 2018 than last year. We hope through careful management of our funds to continue in this fashion. In order to provide recognition to more of our outstanding students, our Foundation has limited each eligible student to one scholarship for a lifetime. With this limitation, we wanted to provide information about some other methods that would help our high school students get a leg up in their search for college scholarships.

Raise.me

Check out Raise.me, a scholarship web site and program that focuses on making sure every student has the opportunity to achieve their college ambitions. Raise.me allows students to begin tracking their high school progress, earn micro-scholarships, and develop a path to college. This startup has partnered with a number of colleges and universities.

Students can find the following on Raise.me

- Discover New Colleges
- Earn Scholarships
- Set Goals

The program allows students beginning in 9th grade to begin participating. They can also start their senior year in high school and go back and fill in their achievements for the previous years.

Take a look at Raise.me and see what is available for the students in your family.
