Welcome to
World Strategy Week 2016
World Strategy Week 2016

Mega forces are at work, shifting global and local economies. Innovation, sustainability, collaboration, people and data are among the biggest drivers of change.

During World Strategy Week 2016 we are exploring:

• How these mega forces are changing global and local economies
• What these economic drivers mean for the future of today's organizations
• How strategists and leaders should factor these forces into strategy formulation

iBosswell

• Leading organizations to new heights using an integrated approach
  • Excellence results from the right balance of strategy, implementation and organizational culture.
  • iBosswell, Inc. is a leadership and organizational development company that helps foster excellence and success through advancement and greater alignment in each of these critical areas of your organization.
Services

- Strategy (Planning Services)
  - Every successful organization needs a clear vision of where it wants to go and a road map to help it get there. The iBossWell planning process delivers clear strategies and tactics tied to real timeframes, budget and accountabilities that organizations can use to manage implementation and performance at every level.

- Implementation Planning
  - Strategic planning produces a road map for an organization’s development, but the success of the planning process is only as good as the implementation steps outlined in the strategic plan. During the planning process, iBossWell consultants help develop concrete and measurable tactics to help organizations reach their long term goals.
Services

• WePlanWell Tool

LEARN ABOUT THE FIVE MEGAFORCES THAT ARE CHANGING GLOBAL ECONOMIES AND HOW TO FACTOR THESE INTO YOUR STRATEGIES
Collaboration and Strategy

Wednesday May 18 2016
What is Collaboration?

- A process of working together to achieve a desired result
  - It can take place within an organization (e.g., across business units)
  - It can take place across organizations (e.g., strategic partnerships, joint ventures, public-private partnerships, etc.)
  - It can take place within a single function/unit or on a team
Collaboration & Strategy: Why it Matters

- Various trends that are at work create a need for strategists to consider collaboration both strategically and tactically:
  - “Borderless” enterprises
  - Workforce mobility and the “open talent” economy
  - Consumerization of and proliferation of IT
  - Complex environmental and demographic challenges
