NEWS & RESOURCES

TAG 2017: Call for Sessions is Open!

Do you have an idea for a great presentation topic for the TAG 2017 conference? If so, please submit a session design proposal.

For all the details and to submit your proposal, click here! Submissions are due Friday, March 17th.

TAG Dues Reminder

You must renew your membership online prior to March 15th for your foundation's TAG members to continue to receive member benefits and access the TAG web site. During the online renewal process, you can elect to pay dues by credit card or by check.

If you are the primary TAG contact, please login to tagtech.org and click on the link in your Profile to renew your membership now.

Member Satisfaction Survey

The purpose of this survey is to learn what foundations and NPO members think and examine ways in which we can better meet your needs. This feedback will inform future TAG planning decisions. Watch your inbox and please complete this important survey!

TAG Member Blog: Every Day Resolutions

By Matt Sharp, The Duke Endowment

We are well into this new year, but it is never too late to make resolutions for improving. Every day, every week, and every month I confirm my resolutions to walk, talk, think, and act better than I did last year. More.

Customized vs. Configurable Software Solutions: Which Should You Choose?

As we evolve into a society that increasingly relies on online—or cloud-based—software to manage everything from personal communications to banking needs, the debate over the pros and cons of configurable vs. customized software has arrived at the main stage. In many instances, the two words are used interchangeably, however, there are significant differences between the two.
