

Digital Infrastructure for Civil Society

Each element defines a component of digital infrastructure that equips the work of social change in the digital era. Each element is necessary to creating robust, scalable, sustainable, and equitable infrastructure for the mission of civil society.