Representative: Southeastern Library Association
TLA Advisory Council Meeting: December 14, 2021

The most recent SELA Board meeting was held virtually on October 19, 2021 during the NCLA (North Carolina Library Association)/SELA joint conference, but unfortunately, I was unable to attend. The 64th conference was held from October 18-22, 2021. It was primarily virtual with some in-person events held at the Benton Convention Center in Winston-Salem, NC.

The Fall 2021 issue of The Southeastern Librarian, which marks the 70th anniversary of the journal, is available in the Digital Commons@Kennesaw State University. This issue includes an essay by Alan Boehm, Susan J. Martin, and Rachel Kirk from MTSU entitled “Distilling a Collection: Creating a Distilling, Fermenting, and Brewing Special Collection at the James E. Walker Library.” This issue’s research article, “Covid-19 Impacts on Electronic Resource Usage at a Regional University,” was written by Daniel Moody and Rickey D. Best of Auburn University at Montgomery.

As of October 19, SELA had 244 members from the 12 member states. Twenty of the members are from Tennessee. As always, we would love to increase representation from Tennessee. The first year of membership is only $10 for new members. SELA Membership information can be found here.
