The most recent SELA Board meeting was held virtually on December 7, 2020. The Board voted to transition The Southeastern Librarian to open access in the near future. At present, current issues of The Southeastern Librarian are available to SELA members only and require a username/password to access. Back issues are freely available via the DigitalCommons@Kennesaw State University and can be searched in the SELn Archives from 2001 through one year prior to the current issue. The SELA listserv will continue to be available only to members.

The 2020 Georgia Libraries Conference with SELA was held virtually from October 7 – 9. There was a total of 234 registrants for the conference, 127 of whom are SELA members. SELA night was held on October 7 when the SELA awards were presented. Relevant highlights to Tennessee included the winner of the Outstanding Southeastern Library Program Award to Jaclyn Anderson of the Chattanooga Public Library and the Southern Books Competition Award of Excellence: Hard Cover to Holding on to Nothing by Elizabeth Chiles Shelburne, Blair Publishing. The SELA Centennial Commercial that premiered during the conference can been seen here. If you registered for the conference, you will have access to the sessions until the end of 2020. The session entitled “A Look Back at the Presidents of SELA: Leaders from Georgia and Other Southeastern States” was presented by SELA Presidents #44 through #47 in honor of the Centennial. Watch it here.

The SELA Centennial Celebration was held on November 12, 2020 at the Alexian Village in Signal Mountain, TN at the site of the first Southeastern Librarian’s Conference in 1920. The event was streamed live to SELA members who were unable to attend and the recording of the event can be found here. Portions of the ALA Tribute Resolution Honoring the 100th Anniversary of the Southeastern Library Association (SELA) were read at the event. In addition to several SELA members and friends of SELA, Director of the Signal Mountain Library Karin Glendenning and Mayor of the Town of Signal Mountain Dan Landrum were in attendance. Mr. Landrum read a Mayoral Proclamation from the Town of Signal Mountain, Tennessee, recognizing the importance of the Southeastern Library Association, congratulating and commending SELA for its 100 years of service to librarianship in the region, and celebrating the Centennial of SELA.

Centennial donations totaled $2,819.87 which includes the $834.87 raised via the Custom Ink t-shirt fundraiser website. The Centennial Committee also organized a variety of interviews with past SELA presidents as part of the Centennial Celebration. Interviews can be watched here.

Discussions for a virtual joint North Carolina/SELA Conference for October 2021 are in the early stages.

As of December 5, 2020, SELA had 304 members from the 12 member states. Thirty-two of the members are from Tennessee.
