

Shaun Ginter, MBA, FACHE

Shaun Ginter is president and chief executive officer of the Urgent Care Centers of New England, Inc., doing business as CareWell Urgent Care Quincy, MA.

Prior to joining CareWell, Shaun was the COO of Solantic Walk-In Urgent Care (now CareSpot) of Jacksonville, FL, one of the nation's largest providers of urgent care, wellness and occupational health services. During his time with Solantic, Shaun's effective operational strategies and tactical expertise in consumer-driven environments allowed the company to grow from 11 to 37 clinics. Shaun has also held executive positions as the CEO of both Goverline and Blue Medical Supply, Inc. and regional VP for Rite Aid Drug stores.

Shaun earned his MBA and BSBA from the University of Phoenix, Woodland Hills, CA.

He currently has board positions with UCA, the Urgent Care Centers of New England, Inc.; the Urgent Care Assurance Company, and the Northeast Regional Urgent Care Association.

Shaun was one of the first early adopters of the UCA Accreditation, and is a regular speaker and contributor at urgent care and healthcare conferences.

Shaun is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives, the National Association of Corporate Directors, and the Association of Corporate Growth. He is also an adjunct professor of online courses for both graduate and undergraduate classes with the John Sperling School of Business, teaching: Change Management; Human Resource Information Systems; Human Resource Management; Retail Personal Management; and Sustainable Human Resource Practices.
