Biography

Wilson Barmeyer is an attorney at Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP in Washington, DC and defends clients in litigation and governmental regulatory examinations and audits. He has defended numerous holders in multi-state unclaimed property audits and has handled unclaimed property litigation in multiple states. He advises clients on many unclaimed property and compliance issues, including gift cards and other stored-value programs, novel property types, and the use of the Social Security Death Master File to identify unclaimed benefits and develop remediation strategies. Wilson has counseled clients on unclaimed property issues across a wide range of industries, including insurance, financial services, banking, broker-dealer, retail, restaurant, technology, media and telecommunications. He works with Eversheds Sutherland's multidisciplinary team of regulatory, tax, and litigation attorneys to address unclaimed property issues involving new business models and emerging technologies.
