Chapter Operations Manual

Reissued December, 2014

Section 1 Introduction

The life cycle of a SAVE International chapter has been logically divided into four phases, namely; information, planning, execution and operation. In each phase certain key milestones should be accomplished. Figure 1-1, illustrates these key milestones. Sections 2 through 5 of this manual will then provide a detailed explanation of each event.

Information Phase

- Secure Assistance from SAVE International Business Office (SBO)
- Study Chapter Development Data Package
- Seek Potential Members
- Establish and Organize VM Steering Committee

Planning Phase

- Conduct Periodic Chapter Steering Committee Meetings
- Determine Area and Choose Name for Proposed Chapter
- Submit Letter of Intent to SBO
- Plan and Publicize Chapter Meeting
- Order Membership Kits
- Invite Guests
- Select Time, Date and Location of Chapter Meeting
- Appoint Hospitality Committee
- Prepare Petitions

Execution Phase

- Conduct “Charter Meeting”
- Conduct Chapter Steering Committee “Follow-Up” Meetings
- Perform and Submit Basic Chapter Formation Requirements
- Plan Charter Presentation and Installation of Officers
- Nominate Officers
- Elect Officers
- Announce Officers
- Notify SBO of Scheduled Installation of Officers and Charter Presentation Meeting

Operational Phase

- Conduct Installation of Officers and Charter Presentation Meeting
- Conduct Regular Monthly Charter Meetings

Section 2 Information Phase

2.1. Secure assistance from SAVE International Business Office (SBO)

Your first step towards establishing a chapter is to prepare a “letter of intention” to the Executive Director of the SAVE International Business Office (SBO). The letter should contain information about your intentions to initiate a new chapter and request assistance and guidance. Upon receipt of this letter, the Executive Director at SBO will send to you a Chapter Development Data Package - containing:

- SAVE International members in your vicinity
- Membership kits (including membership application forms)
- SAVE International Board of Directors and Chapter Presidents directory
- SAVE International Constitution and By-Laws (current)

2.2. Distribution of “Letter of Intention” and Acknowledgments of “Letter of Intention”

Upon receipt, your letter of intention will be sent by the SBO to cognizant SAVE International officers for action and follow-up. Immediately, the Vice President - Membership will acknowledge your letter and advise you of other chapter development activities in your area. In addition, he/she will offer counsel and advice. Information pertaining to your chapter charter and By-Law requirements will also be provided. The Vice President - Membership will be your Key Contact during the early phases of your chapter’s development - Keep him/her abreast of your progress and feel free to contact him/her regarding any problems or roadblocks.

In cases involving international chapter development, the Vice President – International may be appointed as the key contact in lieu of the Vice President – Membership when deemed appropriate and necessary.

In some cases, the Vice President – Membership, may request other Board Members to serve as SAVE’s key contact.

2.3. Study the Chapter Development Data Package

The Petitioning Group should study the chapter development data package and become familiar with the chapter requirements. If there are any questions or clarifications required, call or write your SAVE International key contact.

2.4. Seek Potential Members

Your next step should be to broaden the base of your chapter formation activities and seek potential members. The following suggestions may be helpful.

- a) Local Contacts - Contact the local people whose names you received from the SBO. In addition, seek those people in your area who previously have been members of SAVE International. Solicit interest from these people in joining your chapter.
- b) Key Contacts - Seek out the leaders of key government, companies, and non-profit organizations in your area. The managers of VE Departments, chief engineers from industry, and the professors or associate professors and instructors from educational institutions may be willing to help. Interest them in becoming members and they will influence others.

- c) Why a Local Chapter - Study appendix A, “Why membership in SAVE International and the Benefits of a Local Chapter”. Be ready with answers to questions on these subjects.
- d) Application Forms - Request those that are interested in becoming members to complete an application form. (NOTE: Current membership applications and requirements can be obtained from the SBO or on the SAVE International website www.value-eng.org) Ask new members to select your new chapter as their preferred chapter assignment.

2.5. Establish the Chapter Steering Committee

The next important step is to establish the Chapter Steering Committee. This group, of four or more keenly interested and cost conscious individuals, will meet regularly to plan and work for the formation of a SAVE International chapter.

To assure an effective steering committee, strive to include representatives who will create VE awareness and interest among their organizational constituents. Your committee will form the nucleus around which will be built the framework of the chapter.

2.6. Organize the Chapter Steering Committee

One of the steering committee members should preside over all meetings. This individual will be the acting president of the proposed chapter. All contact will be with the SBO and the Vice President – Membership/International. His/Her appointment should be by mutual consent of the steering committee membership. Advice and counsel regarding the appointment of the acting president may be obtained from your SAVE International key contact. If the group is large enough, individuals can then be assigned responsibility for Administration, communications, etc. Additionally, each member should act as a key contact at their respective organization to seek potential members. A typical Chapter Steering Committee organization is show in Figure 2-2.

Section 3 Planning Phase

3.1. Conduct Periodic Chapter Steering Committee Meetings

The next step in the formation of your SAVE International chapter will be the conduct of periodic Chapter Steering Committee meetings. The committee should address themselves to choosing a name for the proposed chapter, determining the area to be included by the chapter, ways and means to attract potential members, and the planning of the charter meeting.

3.2. Choose a Name for the Proposed Chapter

A name for the proposed chapter should be investigated and carefully selected. The selection of a name can be difficult. Each chapter should be identified by a name descriptive of the geographical area which it serves. The chapter directory can provide some guidance to your selection.

3.3. Determine the Area to be Included by the Proposed Chapter

Your chapter will be chartered to serve members within a designated geographical area. Determine the area to be included by the chapter through coordination with your SAVE International key contact and the SBO. Possible boundary disputes must be resolved before submitting your petition for certification. Regardless of chapter boundaries, SAVE International members are still given the prerogative of belonging to the chapter of their choice.

3.4. Select a Chapter Structure

SAVE offers chapters two options for administration and legal structure: 1) as an independent legal entity and 2) as a department of the association.

Independent Chapters

A US-based chapter that elects to be an independent entity must comply with IRS regulations, to effect:

- a) Incorporated. Any chapter that wants to operate as a separate organization should be incorporated within a state (or legally formed as another entity type such as an unincorporated association, LLC, etc.). The organization should show up in a business search in the state's records and should be noted as "active." The application, regulation, and search process varies among states. The SBO can help with this evaluation.
- b) Federal EIN. An independent chapter must have its own federal tax identification number. Chapters operating as separate organizations may not use SAVE's identification number or the ID of any other chapter (past or present). The application for this number is called an SS-4.
- c) Tax Exempt. The chapter should be approved to be a tax-exempt 501(c)(6) entity by the IRS. The application form for this process is called a Form 1024. Once applied for, a determination may take a year or more from the IRS. If the application is approved (which is expected), then the chapter will receive a letter from the IRS noting the approval. This is normally referred to as an "IRS Determination Letter." The Chapter can operate as if approved during the waiting period after the application is submitted to the IRS.

Section 3 Planning Phase

- d) Annual IRS Filings. Chapters must file something annually with the IRS, regardless of income. An organization having gross receipts of $50,000 or less, depending upon the respective year, can file a very simple online form called the 990-N. If a chapter has more than $50,000 in gross receipts, a longer form will be required (990-EZ or 990).
- e) State Filings. Depending upon the state in which the chapter is legally organized, there may also be state filings required on an annual or other regularly stated interval. Chapters maintaining themselves as separate organizations are responsible for determining what is needed to achieve and maintain compliance with the states of their official domicile. SAVE recommends such chapters seek the counsel of a CPA or tax attorney in the state of legal residence.
- f) Insurance. A chapter should evaluate its insurance needs, specifically the following: Directors and officers' insurance protects the personal assets and financial position of the chapter's board members should the chapter be sued or taken to court. This insurance is highly recommended. General liability insurance is recommended for chapters with sizeable assets and that hold events on a regular basis. A cost benefit assessment can be made by chapter leadership with respect to the amount of assets that could be lost versus the risk of a lawsuit.

Departmental Chapter

A chapter that elects to be a department of SAVE International will function independently, but its finances will be managed by SAVE. This option is available only to US-based chapters. Chapters that choose to be departments of SAVE do not bear the burden of maintaining/obtaining separate legal status, preparing financial statements, filing with the state or IRS, or obtaining insurance. All requirements for chapter development, annual reporting, and rebate/dividend programs still apply to any chapter organized as a department, with the exception of some financial reporting required by the independent chapters, as the finances for departmental chapters will be managed by SAVE.

SAVE will hold a departmental chapter's funds in a separate chart of accounts, and earmark them for the chapter's use. Departmental chapters may not have their own bank accounts, checkbooks, or petty cash reserves. Chapter treasurers are to send to SAVE any funds collected at the chapter level for deposit. Chapter treasurers are also responsible for approving chapter expenses and requesting payment (or reimbursement) of those expenses from the chapter's funds (held by SAVE).

SAVE issues checks twice monthly from the society business office. The chapter's activities would be recorded on SAVE's books as a department and would be included in the annual tax return filed for the organization. Chapter treasurers will work with SAVE's accounting manager to track balances and financial activities for each chapter; however, all detailed accounting work will be performed for the chapter by SAVE.

3.5. Plan the "Charter Meeting"

When you have stimulated the interest of potential members, you are ready to take your next step: "Hold the charter meeting." This meeting should be both explanatory and stimulating as the outcome of this meeting may determine the fate of your proposed chapter. It is important to have it go well!

Section 3 Planning Phase

3.5.1. Order Membership Kits

If necessary, additional membership kits should be ordered from SBO well in advance of the meeting. (Three weeks ahead is best.) SAVE International brochures and extra membership applications should also be available at the meeting.

3.5.2. Invite Guests

Ask the SAVE International key contact to attend or other SAVE International knowledgeable individuals. Someone must be prepared to discuss SAVE International and the benefits of a chapter.

3.5.3. Select Time, Date and Place

Select the time, date and place of the meeting with care. A general poll of the Chapter Steering Committee and likely participants should guide where and when to hold the meeting.

Dinner meetings have been used successfully for the Charter Meeting where an efficient organization committee is operating. This requires more work and planning, but when properly done, the results are far better. Handling the reservations and ascertaining the number that will attend is the biggest problem. A personal phone call to each person on the list may be necessary to crystallize the plans and reservations.

3.5.4. Plan Your Program

As iterated previously, your first meeting is critical. Plan it carefully. Have a prepared agenda and make sure the meeting is started on time and is conducted in an efficient, orderly manner. If possible have some displays, or handouts, showing the results of VE applications. Current copies of SAVE International communications are available through the SBO. Films and video tapes are also available for your use through the SBO.

3.5.5. Appoint Hospitality Committee

Hospitality is important. Appoint committee members to greet all guests. Name tags are highly recommended and allow each participant to learn the names of those present at the meeting. Inform the Hospitality Committee Chairman that he/she will be responsible for the introduction of all guests at the meeting.

3.5.6. Publicize your "Charter Meeting" - Petitioning Group

In preparing for your publicity campaign consider the following items.

- a) Mailing List. By this time, you should have a fairly well developed mailing list. Add to it by securing the names of professionals from local professional societies and associations, and from other management or civic groups. Phone companies in the area and request the name(s) of the Chief Engineer(s), and the men in charge of the VE and Industrial Engineering activities.

Section 3 Planning Phase

- b) Newspaper Publicity: The formation of a new technical group in a community is news. The papers are happy to have such information and will always give it space. As with everything, the more importance that you attach to the project, the more important the newspapers will believe it to be. The Public Relations Department of your plant can give you some good tips. For newspaper publicity, a visit to the paper is best. Ask for the Industrial, Business or City Editor. The Editor of SAVE International Communications will provide guidance and when requested will write your local news releases.
- c) Meeting Announcements. Meeting announcements should be provided at least two weeks prior to the meeting with follow-up phone calls. These notices should explain the objective of the meeting and provide its time, date and place as well as a telephone number where additional information can be obtained. You may also may want to enclose a self-addressed card so that the person receiving the invitation can "register" even if he cannot attend. He may also wish to add names of other individuals that may be interested in receiving the notices. The posting of meeting announcements on bulletin boards of local organizations is also excellent means of announcing your meeting arrangements.

3.6. Prepare Petition for Certification

The petition for Certification, as attached on following pages, must be available for signatures at the "charter meeting". (NOTE: The petition should be signed only by members of SAVE International and prospective members who have submitted their applications and payments.) At this time, and with the accomplishment of the activities outlined in this section, you have completed your planning activities and are ready for the charter meeting.

Section 4 – Execution Phase

4.1. Conduct the "Charter Meeting"

Members of the steering committee will want to arrive early at the charter meeting to assure that all "arrangements" are in order. Again this is a very critical meeting and you will want to see that the following events take place:

4.1.1. Complete Attendance Record - An attendance record sheet (see figure 4-1) should be set out so attendees may register. This data is useful in forming the temporary committees, and for establishing the chapter's mailing list.

4.1.2. Meet the Guests. The committee should introduce themselves to the guests and the Guests to one another. Name cards will be helpful accessories.

4.1.3. Open the Meeting. When the group has assembled, the acting president of the chapter should call the meeting to order; introduce himself; introduce the committee; and, welcome the guests. As an alternative, you may wish to have each person stand up and state his name and company. This "warms up" the group and gives everyone a sense of participation.

4.1.4. Explain the Society and the Purpose of the Meeting - Following the introductions, the Acting President or a guest speaker should explain the objectives of the Society and the advantages of membership. The value of the local chapter should be especially impressive. SAVE International membership requirement benefits should be explained. (See Appendix A.)

4.1.5. Introduce Speaker or Movie. Present your speaker or movie. Hold a short question and answer period immediately following the presentation.\

4.1.6. Sign the Petition. Request that those who are members and prospective members who have submitted their applications and payments come forward and sign the petition for certification.

4.1.7. Appoint Nominating Committee. The acting president will appoint a nominating committee for the election of permanent officers. (For guidance see Appendix B, "Typical By-Laws for a chapter of the SAVE International", Article IV and V and Appendix C, "Responsibilities of Chapter Directors".)

4.1.8. Close the Meeting. In closing the meeting, the attendees and guests should be thanked, the place and time of the next meeting announced, and the attendees should be encouraged to record the name, address and telephone number of the acting President, and the other members of the steering committee.

4.2. Conduct Chapter Steering Committee "Follow-up" Meetings

Immediately at the conclusion of the first meeting the steering committee should convene and arrange their next steering committee meeting, preferably within a week or sooner. At that meeting the committee assignments are reviewed and action is planned. The conduct of future chapter meetings can be discussed based on the experiences received at the first meeting.

Section 4 – Execution Phase

If more time is considered appropriate, other meetings can be planned prior to submitting the petition for certification. A speaker or other suitable program may be scheduled. Subsequent meetings follow the same pattern until the charter is granted and the permanent officers are installed.

At the next general meeting, committee progress reports are given and the steps taken toward permanent organization reviewed.

During the period between the "charter meeting" and the charter presentation, operating costs may present some difficulty because the group will have no treasury. In the event that operating funds are required, the chapter steering committee may request up to $500 from the SBO.

4.3. Meet the Basic Chapter Formation Requirements

There are three basic requirements which must be met before the SAVE International Board of Directors can approve the Petition for Certification and issue a charter to a new chapter. Namely:

- a) A completed petition for certification
- b) Chapter by-laws acceptable to the SAVE International Board of Directors

4.3.1. Complete Petition for Certification - Petitioning Group

Complete in full the petition for certification indicating the proposed name of the chapter, specific areas and boundaries involved, acting President, and other required information. Include with the petition the signatures of SAVE International members.

4.3.2. Prepare Chapter By-Laws

Appendix B of this manual provides a typical set of chapter by-laws which may be used by the petitioning body. Necessary changes, additions, or improvements may be incorporated and submitted with your petition for certification. The resultant by-laws, however, must not be in conflict with the SAVE International Constitution.

4.3.3. Submit Petition for Certification, Roster, and By-Laws

Forward the completed "Petition for Certification and Roster" including any membership applications and payments, and your proposed by-laws, to the SBO. The SBO will submit your petition to the Board of Directors and you SAVE International key contact will notify you of its acceptance.

4.4. Nominate Officers

Nominations for the elective officers of the chapter should be made by a nominating committee. The committee, appointed by the acting president, should have a chairman and at least two members. The appointment of this committee should be accomplished prior to submittal of the petition. In making the appointment, the acting president should provide the following guidance to the committee:

- a) Schedule when the nominating committee shall report the names of its nominees to the acting president and to the acting secretary of the Chapter. This scheduled date may coincide with the last meeting before the scheduled installation. At this meeting, additional nominations can be accepted from the floor and included on the ballot.

Section 4 – Execution Phase

- b) Assure that persons being nominated agree to be a candidate and will serve if elected.
- c) Schedule for distributing ballots to all members.
- d) Schedule for return of ballots for tabulation.
- e) Schedule for the announcement election results.

The chairman of the nominating committee should then appoint (from the membership) a head teller and two other tellers whose duty it will be to receive and count all ballots cast in the election and to certify the results.

4.5. Mail and Count Ballots

The acting secretary should list the nominees for each chapter office on a ballot in such form as may be approved by the acting President. The ballot should then be distributed to all members. Ballots should be returned to the head teller.

4.6. Announce Officers Elect

The results of the ballot count should be transmitted by the head teller in writing to the acting President and acting secretary of the chapter. A plurality of the total ballots cast should be required for elections to any office. At the same time the SBO should be notified, in writing, of the election results. Report the names, addresses, and telephone numbers, both in business and residence, and include an identification of the office to which elected. Include with this information the scheduled Installation of Officers and Charter Presentation meeting. The SAVE International key contact will then arrange to have a SAVE International officer present to officially present your charter and install your officers.

4.7. SAVE International Activities

After you have submitted the proper instruments for the creation of your chapter, there will be several events take place, all of which are at the SAVE International organization level. These activities include: presentation to (and approval by) the SAVE International Board of Directors of the petition and by-laws of the new chapter; and, notification to the petitioning group that the petition has been approved.

Section 5 – Operational Phase

5.1. Conduct Charter Presentation and Installation of Officers Meeting

Congratulations - this should be one of the most exciting nights of your new chapter's life. Your petition has been accepted; your new officers are ready to take their respective roles in the organization; and you are about to embark on a very satisfying, enriching experience: conducting regular SAVE International chapter meetings and business. At this meeting you will want to have one of the officers from the SAVE International Organization as your keynote speaker. Also there are several activities that should occur at this meeting namely:

- a) Conduct Charter Presentation
- b) Install new officers
- c) Announce the Board of Directors meeting night
- d) Appoint appropriate committee chairmen
- e) Announce information relative to the next regular meeting night

5.2. Conduct Regular Monthly Chapter meetings

In your regular monthly chapter meetings, you should feature guest speakers, films, and other type information that is of interest to your chapter membership. You will also find it advantageous to prepare and distribute a monthly chapter newsletter and create a chapter directory of members.

5.3 Documentation

Regardless of chapter structure (independent or departmental), each chapter is required to submit evidence of activity via the annual chapter report. SAVE must receive such documentation before rebates and/or dividends will be disbursed. The report template can be downloaded from the SAVE website under the Member Log-in area.

By December 31 of each year, independent chapters must submit the following to SAVE:

- a) Balance sheet
- b) Income statement
- c) Legal identification as a 501(c)(6)
- d) Copy of tax filing

Should an independent chapter's annual tax filing not be complete by December 31, then SAVE requests a copy of the tax filing documents near the time they are due to the IRS. The chapter must submit the tax filing copy to SAVE in order to receive payment of annual rebates; however, only the annual report is required to qualify for quarterly dividends.

5.4 Protocol for Financial Management of Departmental Chapters

Departmental chapters are required to transfer all income to SAVE throughout the year within 30 days of receipt. Expenses to be reimbursed are to be submitted to SAVE—and authorized by the chapter's treasurer or president—within 30 days of being incurred.

Income. Revenue chapters receive will be tracked and allocated to each chapter's sub-account within SAVE's chart of accounts. Income sent to SAVE should be accompanied by a chapter deposit form which can be downloaded from the SAVE website. Chapters that take credit card payments should use the SAVE credit slip, which can also be downloaded from the SAVE website. Credit card charges will be processed by SAVE within two business days of receipt.

Disbursements. SAVE cuts checks twice monthly, usually around the 15th and the 30th. Dates may vary slightly due to weekends and/or holidays. Departmental chapters are to use the payment request form for reimbursement of expenses. Receipts must be provided for all expenses claimed for reimbursement. Expenses under $5,000 require authorization by the chapter's treasurer or president. Expenses over $5,000 will need authorization by both the chapter's treasurer (or president) and the SAVE VP-Finance & Administration.

W-9 forms may be required for some reimbursements.

Amounts approved for reimbursement will be subtracted from the chapter's available funds. Checks will not be cut if there are no available funds for the chapter and SAVE will notify the chapter's treasurer via email in such circumstance.

Reports. SAVE will send reports for financial transactions to the chapter treasurer on a monthly basis, around the 25th of each month for the previous month. Reports will contain the following information: beginning balance for the month; income/additions for the month; expenses/subtractions for the month; ending balance for the month.

Taxes. Department chapters' activities will be included on SAVE International's filings; thus no action is needed from departmental chapters.

Chapters may have income from dues, event registrations, and sponsorships. Any other income source (advertising, sale of items, auctions, etc.) must be approved in advance from the society business office. Prior approval is necessary due to tax regulations that may come into play.

Chapters may not use their funds for political purposes. Chapters may not use their funds for lobbying activities without advance, written approval from SAVE. These activities have tax implications for SAVE.

SAVE is not a charitable organization, so tax deductible charitable contributions cannot be made to the society business office or to chapters. SAVE is a nonprofit organization incorporated under a 501(c)(6).

Vendors may need to be issued a 1099 form. The society business office will process the forms and will also need chapter assistance in collecting 1099 data from vendors. Obtaining a W-9 form from vendors used by the chapter will provide the necessary data.

Chapter leaders who are reimbursed personally for purchases made for chapter business will not be issued 1099 forms, provided they provide all receipts/invoices for the purchases (submitted with the chapter's payment request form). These would be considered reimbursements on a qualified plan.

APPENDIX A

Why Membership in Save and the Benefits of a Local Chapter

The SAVE International offers professionals an opportunity to gain knowledge and understanding of Value Engineering (VE) applications. The Society's objective, to promote the advancement of the knowledge and application of VE, is in consonance with the objectives of organizations that of optimizing the utilization of resources. Stated in simple terms-to prevent or eliminate unnecessary costs wherever they may be. VE is no panacea. It will not eliminate all waste, but has proved to be a useful tool towards reaching that end. Neither is its use limited to the practicing Value Engineer. Other professionals and non-professions alike have proved its usefulness.

Membership in the Society provides for its member's opportunities for:

Stimulation - which comes from comparing your accomplishments and progress with others applying the principles of VE.

Advancement-as a natural outgrowth of participating in a relatively new and growing field dedicated to the design and development of products and services at the lowest total cost to the customer/consumer

Value-as realized from the contacts which will develop from your association with the Society and the recognition which you will receive by participating in Society activities.

Experience-which is gained by exchanging ideas and accomplishments with the leaders in the field of VE. You will acquire the latest state-of-the-art knowledge, thereby permitting you to remain competitive.

Other opportunities available to SAVE International members include:

Working Together-to work together to develop their profession and to discharge their professional responsibilities to themselves, their employers and society

Increase Value of Services-to increase the value of their services and to expand their opportunities by perfecting old techniques developing new techniques applying techniques to new fields

Gain Recognition-to gain increased recognition and acceptance of the principles and application of VE, thereby creating new opportunities.

Take Action-to take concerted action to protect the name, reputation and standards of their profession.

Guide-to guide and assist students in training.

APPENDIX A

Expand Profession-to expand their professional stature, position and personality by meeting, working and otherwise associating with the nation's top Value Engineers, authors, educators, research men, consultants, specialists and private industrial and commercial practitioners.

Participate-to participate on numerous committees on problems of general or specific interest, plus the opportunity to share in the fruits and findings of the committee work of others.

Gain Pride-to gain pride and personal satisfaction:

By service as a committee member or Director of a National or Local Chapter committee.

By the presentation of technical papers in Value World, at chapter meetings, or at the SAVE International Annual Conference

By serving as a chapter or SAVE International officer

Make Friends-to make friends with others of common interests and to establish professional contacts with men in other plants, cities, states and countries.

Protect Personal Investment-to protect their tremendous personal investment in their profession.

Keep Abreast-to keep abreast of changes in this new, fast developing field through Value World.

Qualify-to prepare and qualify oneself as a Certified Value Specialist.

Benefits of associating with a local chapter include:

Professional Contacts-the opportunity to meet frequently with other value engineers in the community to discuss and work out solutions to common technical problems.

Technical Sessions-the opportunity to plan and to present programs consisting of papers, debates, panel discussions and forums.

Visitations-the opportunity to arrange and attend plant inspection trips to view VE techniques on the job.

Committee Work-the opportunity to follow specific problems of company or personal interest with the assistance of fellow members.

Technical Expression-the opportunity to prepare and present technical papers, to express one's self in open forum, to cooperate on interesting research projects.

Professional Leadership-the opportunity for experience in conducting the work of others through committee chairmanship, round table leadership, or as a chapter, regional or national officer.

APPENDIX A

Social Contacts-the opportunity to expand acquaintances and to meet socially with industrial and community leaders with the strong common bond of mutual professional interests.

Professional and Vocation Guidance-the opportunity to receive guidance from the older members or to extend it to the junior members. Where student members are in the chapter, opportunities exist for their guidance.

Community Services-the opportunity to enhance the status of the profession through participation in community service projects.
