10 Commandments of Networking a Mixer

Join Nanette Polito, Success Coach, for our June Emerging Professionals' Series event as she discusses the 10 Commandments of Networking.

When going to a networking event, is your first goal deciding when you are going to leave? For some it is. For others, it may be a great social event. However, they don't get the takeaways that they desired. What if networking could become easier and you could actually make some great connections?

In this presentation, you will get some great tips on how to make networking a great tool in your business tool belt.

About Our Speaker...

Nanette Polito Success Coach

After 40 years in the business world, Nanette Polito knew it was time for a change. She had spent years running successful sales departments, starting new businesses, acting as a mortgage loan officer, and so much more. Her favorite part of every one of those roles? Mentoring people.

Now, Nanette Polito is a success coach who helps business owners and sales professionals transform their own lives. With Nanette's coaching, she enables her mentees to break through their barriers to achieve massive growth.

Nanette currently works both with individuals and with corporate teams who are serious about being successful. With a mix of advice, inspiration, and a little tough love, Nanette helps people create the lives they love.

Nanette resides in Hebron, Kentucky with her husband Joe and dog Ruby. They have two children Christopher and Alexandra. Her burning desire is just to have everyone around her be successful.
