Women's Health Leadership TRUST
Connect More. Learn More. Be More.

Together, we can advance women leaders in health care.

At the Women's Health Leadership TRUST, our vision is to create healthier communities by realizing women's leadership potential. We believe in the collaborative force of dynamic women in health care, aligned to share insights, expertise and trusted knowledge to lead within the industry.

Founded in 1979, the TRUST shapes and influences health care in Minnesota through its membership of more than 400 women. These women create opportunities to network within the health care industry, offer programs designed to enhance leadership skills, provide educational offerings and advance the careers of women.

TRUST members represent all sectors of the health care industry and provide first-hand insight into significant issues and experiences affecting women leaders in health care. Through the TRUST, members are able to join forces with other women who understand the unique challenges and rewards of a profession in health care. We are the only organization of its kind in Minnesota managed for and by women. You'll find common ground and an uncommon level of support among your fellow TRUST colleagues.

Women account for 78% of the labor force in health care and social assistance yet only 15% of executive officers.
