Username: jsmith Password: temp2013 (Username is not case sensitive, Password is case sensitive)

In a few cases, the Username has the number "1" at the end, where we had duplicate Usernames. For example, if there was another member named Jane Smith, there would have been a duplicate Username, so one or the other has the number "1" at the end – "jsmith1". Also, if you have a hyphenated name, please do not put the hyphen in.

Does your company have a group membership? If so, you may be in their group, and you've been assigned a Username and Password. If not, you will have to register by filling out your Username, First Name and Last Name.
