VIRTUAL EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS CLINIC

FOR CHINESE-SPEAKING WORKERS IN LA COUNTY
EVERY WEDNESDAY 4-8PM
JUNE 3, 2020 UNTIL JULY 29, 2020

Immigrant and low-income communities have been economically devastated by COVID-19. Asian American communities in Los Angeles are no exception. The goal of this clinic is to provide assistance to Chinese-speaking workers in Los Angeles County with work-related issues.

Volunteers are required to be available by phone for a 2-hour block between 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. to participate in the clinic. Through the virtual clinic, volunteers conduct intake interviews of clients seeking pro bono legal aid for employment issues, with a focus on serving Chinese speakers. Volunteers will gain experience working directly with supervising attorneys and discussing how California law applies to their clients' unique circumstances.
