

Lisa Rometty
General Manager
Life Sciences, Oncology & Genomics
IBM Watson Health

Recently named General Manager of IBM Watson Health's Life Science, Oncology and Genomics organization, Lisa brings over 25 years of strong commercial leadership experience in global marketing, public relations, business development, strategic partnerships, and client engagement to the role.

She joined IBM in 2015 from Baxter Healthcare where she served in various executive positions including Vice President, Global Home Therapies leading all strategic marketing, new product development and commercialization for Baxter's $4B Renal division to Global Franchise Head – Hospital Products, a $2.4B infusion therapy business operated in over 70 countries with a broad portfolio of products including fusion pumps, administration set and IV solutions.

Prior to Baxter, Lisa spent 15 years at GE Commercial and Consumer Finance in a variety of roles of increasing responsibility.

Lisa holds a BA in International Business from Michigan State University and an MBA from Notre Dame.

Lisa and her husband live in Boston, MA with their two children and their dog Jo-Jo.