In Atlanta, we will be hosting a two-hour golf clinic on April 11, 2018! Our goal is to introduce participants to the game in a gentle way and help them learn together. We have the ability to work with players of all skill levels, on all aspects of the game, and provide opportunities for many people who are hesitant to take advantage of them because of their fear or lack of skill. Golf is supposed to be fun and social. We teach people how to have fun playing while understanding proper social etiquette on the course. Participants don’t have to use their own clubs but may bring them if they prefer. We look forward to working with you!

cago: Join WIB-Chicago’s Mentors, Advisors, and Peers program
our professional success through the power of the WIB network! WIB-Chicago members are invited to join our MAPs Program. Our program is based on the concept of mentoring circles, which promotes diversity of thinking, practice and understanding. Mentoring groups of four “mentees” and two “mentors” will be assigned based on information provided in the applications available below, including professional goals, seniority, and location preferences. The program will run for six months starting in April 2018. WIB membership is a requirement of the program. Register here and submit an application. The deadline for registration and application submission is APRIL 1, 2018. A MAPs kick-off event will be scheduled in mid-April to introduce the groups and share best practices.

cago Young Women in Bio Tour of mHUB

The Chicago Chapter of Women in Bio invites middle school girls to join us for a YWIB tour of mHUB on April 14, 2018. mHUB is Chicago’s innovation center for physical product development and manufacturing. The attendees will tour mHUB’s nine prototyping labs, attend a demonstration of the Laser Cutting Lab and learn about how mHUB helps turn ideas into prototypes and prototypes into new businesses. During the tour and lunch, attendee will have an opportunity to ask members of mHUB and Women in Bio questions and to network with girls interested in careers in STEM.

cago: Keeping up with Developments in Biosimilars

WIB-Chicago members and friends enjoyed an informative discussion on biosimilars at our program, “Clear as Mud?: A Discussion of the Legal, Regulatory, and Business Concerns for Biosimilars in 2018” on February 21, 2018. Our terrific speakers, Helen Ji of Schiff Hardin LLP, Rekha Hanu of Akorn Pharmaceuticals, and Christine Simmon of Association for Accessible Medicine, touched on topics including: When will interchangeables appear?, How will doctors and patients react?, What will Congress and state legislatures do next in this area?, and What will biosimilar litigation look like in the coming year? WIB-Chicago thanks the speakers for a great program and sharing their expertise. We also thank our generous sponsor for this event, Schiff Hardin LLP.

cago “Formula for Success: Blending Project Mgmt & SME for Successful Regulatory Compliance,”

Life science businesses face an increasingly complex landscape of regulatory compliance requirements—and it’s only going to get more complicated. In this deep-dive presentation, a subject matter expert (SME) and project managers share insights on how Fresenius Kabi successfully established and leveraged a disciplined project management structure to complement subject matter expertise—not only to comply with the complex demands of the November 2017 Drug Supply Chain Security Act mandate, but to lay the groundwork for long-lasting organizational change. Join us to:

- Learn the key challenges and lessons learned from helping life science teams meet regulatory compliance
- Gain insights on what’s involved in leading cross-functional teams throughout the compliance process
- Understand the dynamics involved in developing a solid project management structure that will help move the organization into the future.

Save The Date For WIB-Chicago’s 2018 Programs!

WIB-Chicago has a great line-up of programs for 2018. Mark your calendars for this upcoming event. Registration and additional details will be available soon.

- Boost Your Success with Better Negotiation Skills - April 2018 - Michael Best & Friedrich; 444 West Lake Street; Suite 3200, Chicago, IL

What better way to honor Women’s History Month than to celebrate powerful women in the life sciences? In this “Shark Tank style” event, two groups of influential biotech women will come together in the Lobster Pot: six female executives raising startup funds and four senior-level women at investment firms. Come check out companies from across the life science spectrum and take advantage of the valuable networking opportunity. Each executive will pitch to investors, who will provide feedback on the pitch and ideas presented. The audience will also be able to rate the pitches. Join us on March 29, 2018, to learn how to pitch to investors and to check out some exciting life sciences NewCos. Whether you are starting your own company, raising money, or just want to celebrate powerful women, this is one event you can’t afford to miss.

Montréal: Building a Strong Personal Brand to Boost Your Career

16, 2018 The WIB Greater Montreal Chapter had its Women’s History Month event on personal branding called “Building a Strong Personal Brand to Boost Your Career”. We hosted the social media strategist Lina Duque with our first breakfast event sponsored by Bereskin & Parr. The morning started with a bit of networking before we jumped into the fascinating topic of personal branding. Lina offered invaluable advice on how to compose your biography for Twitter and LinkedIn, the importance of choosing the right hashtag to maximize your impact and outreach as well as do’s and don’ts when posting online. Finally, we discussed on how appropriate use of social media advanced the career of multiple women. Moreover, Lina kindly offered the person with the most impactful tweet posted during the session. The winner will get a 1-hour session with Lina to enhance their digital presence. We want to thank Lina Duque for such an inspiring and interesting workshop and Bereskin & Parr for their hospitality.

1 image professionnelle pour développer sa carrière

Pour commémorer le mois de la histoire des femmes, WIB-Grand Montréal a invité Lina Duque, stratège en médias sociaux, pour nous parler de comment « Bâtir son image professionnelle pour développer sa carrière ». Cet événement a été présenté en collaboration avec Bereskin & Parr qui a donné l’espace et le savoureuse petit déjeuner. Le matin a commencé avec l’occasion de socialiser avant la présentation, lequel a facilité les activités pratiques et la discussion. Pendant sa présentation, Lina a partagé des conseils pour rédiger la biographie utilisée en Twitter et LinkedIn ainsi que des tactiques pour augmenter l’impact de ce que l’on partage dans les réseaux sociaux. Elle a aussi parlé de comment trouver le hashtag idéal et le temps du jour pour attirer plus d’audience. Lina a finalisé avec des témoignages magnifiques sur l’impact des réseaux sociaux dans la carrière de nombreuses femmes. Lina n’a seulement partagé des conseils très utiles mais aussi a donné une session personnelle gratuite d’une heure à la personne qui a publié le posting avec le plus audience pendant la session. Une opportunité tellement sans prix! Nous aimerais remercier Bereskin & Parr pour leur collaboration dans l’organisation de cette session ainsi que notre généreuse invitée Lina Duque pour partager son matin avec la communauté de WIB en Montréal.

Pittsburgh Members Attend, "Caffeinated Innovation"

Pittsburgh members and leaders attended an outstanding panel discussion with women investors and firms that specifically invest in women-led and founded businesses. The event was presented by Innovation Works, a sponsor of WIB Pittsburgh, as part of their Caffeinated Innovation series. Panelists include Yvonne Campos, President of Next Act Fund; Jeanne Cunicelli, President of UPMC Enterprises; and Liz Todia, an analyst with Mutual Capital Partners, and was moderated by Pam Eichenbaum, Business Development Associate at Innovation Works. Terri Glueck, Director of Community Development at Innovation Works, began the event by conveying the following message: "More than half of Innovation Works' staff are women and/or people of color. And more than half of the companies we invest in also have a co-founder who is a woman and/or person of color. That isn't coincidental. When an organization is intentional - which Innovation Works has been for years - you can move the needle in the right direction. The panel discussion continues [here].

Pittsburgh WHM "Take a Seat at the Table: Empowering Women & Promoting Inclusion in Boardrooms"

Pittsburgh celebrated Women’s History Month on March 22, 2018, with a discussion of the unique challenges that women face in boardrooms at the Omni William Penn Hotel in Downtown Pittsburgh. Panelists Yvonne Campos, of Next Act Fund - corporate founder and mentor to women-run businesses, Wilma McNeese, an experienced board member from the not-for-profit sector, and Sarah Stewart of the 2020 Women on Boards Initiative, provided insights on the benefits of including women in the boardrooms. Babs Carryer, Director of Pittsburgh Innovation Institute, moderated the lively discussion. The discussion focused on the importance of women on boards as well as some of the initiatives in the region to increase the number and actions we can take to create more inclusive boardrooms. Join us to continue the discussion.

Young Women In Bio’s Spring Into STEM Event: Today’s Students, Tomorrow’s Scientists

YWIB, in collaboration with Graduate Women in Science RT, is excited to be hosting its second Spring Into STEM event. RTP-YWIB held the first ever Spring Into STEM event in 2016, which lead the way for YWIB to create a national campaign, Spring Into STEM. Middle school girls are invited to an afternoon of scientific activities. Fields of science represented include: chemistry, physics, ecology, epidemiology, and molecular biology. Experiments, networking, and a keynote talk will be presented by local women in STEM and volunteers from the Graduate Women in Science and Women In Bio local chapters. Each student will also get their own lab notebook to take home. The RTP-YWIB and Graduate Women In Science RT Spring Into STEM event will be held at North Carolina State University’s Biomanufacturing Training and Education Center (BTEC), on Centennial campus, on April 28, 2018 from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

San Francisco Bay Area

Francisco YWIB: “Dancing with the Flu” - The Science Behind Antibody Discovery

On February 6, 2018, Genentech hosted an event called “Dancing with the Flu” for 36 middle and high school girls from San Francisco.
Bay Area at their headquarters in South San Francisco, CA. This event was meant to inspire girls to pursue careers in science, expose them to a spectrum of careers in biology, and introduce them to Genentech's mission to create an antibody to neutralize the flu. This event featured a hands-on activity that put into perspective how antibodies work, followed by tours of the pilot plant and Genentech campus, and concluded with talks and a Q&A session with a panel of professional women at all levels of their careers.

new WIB-San Francisco Bay Area Facebook Group!

The WIB-SF Bay Area Chapter is transitioning from a Facebook Page to a Facebook Group to better support engagement and growth! Please join our new group (https://www.facebook.com/groups/wibsf/) today to stay up-to-date on all the exciting events we have planned for you. We will completely transition over to the new Facebook Group soon, so be sure to join now to avoid missing out on any future announcements!

WIB Seattle: Dealing with The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly

If the idea of providing and receiving constructive feedback doesn't make you feel warm and fuzzy, you aren't alone. As social creatures, we like to be in harmony with others around us. However, our innovation and growth are predicated on us sharing and taking in new perspectives — some of which may be counter to either our own existing beliefs. WIB-Seattle welcomes you to a workshop by Janet Andrews ACC — an experienced coach, consultant, and business leader. During this evening, Janet will share with us the ins and outs of the feedback process that will help us be better prepared for these inevitable, everyday exchanges that we often find difficult and awkward.

WIB Seattle Presents: “Be Your Own Advocate and Build Allies for Career Success”

Surf incubator hosted WIB-Seattle for an empowering workshop titled “Be Your Own Advocate and Build Allies for Career Success” on March 13, 2018. Hien DeYoung CHIC, ACC, SHRM-SCP of DeYoung Executive Coaching presented to over 50 attendees. Hien guided the group through a case study to prepare each attendee to advocate for herself in the workplace. Attendees identified what they wanted, determined their strategy, analyzed the situation from the other person’s perspective, and outlined options for getting what they wanted. After navigating the group through the case study, small groups... shared and discussed key points from their case studies. This interactive session not only sparked excellent questions, but empowered women to take action towards advancing their self-advocacy skills.

Southern California chapter of Women In Bio launched the Mentors, Peers, and Advisors (MAPs) group. Jennie Starr and Lamia Merabet are the chair and vice-chair of this newly minted group that aims to help members achieve their career goals. Whether seeking a promotion, a transition into a new role or department, or interest in founding a new life sciences company, these peer groups provide a platform to help with challenges, work/life balance, and more. The MAPs launch event was held at AMN Healthcare, which generously provided several meeting rooms in their beautiful Carmel Valley building. Over 80 women in SoCal have expressed interest in the MAPs groups. Each has 8-10 members who meet every month for at least 6 months to discuss topics relevant to their careers. SoCal MAPs has 6 peer groups in the San Diego area who meet in Del Mar, Carlsbad, La Jolla/UTC, Mission Valley/Downtown and Poway; one additional group in Los Angeles/Orange County is in development. The first group meetings are scheduled for late March and early April. Registration remains open for 2018 peer groups through March 31, 2018. Interested SoCal participants can still join and express interest by completing the short application here. For further information or questions email southerncaliforniamaps@womeninbio.org. We look forward to the MAPs meetings and welcome women in SoCal to join the program.

Southern California: YWIB La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company Lab Tour

Interested in learning about how pharmaceutical drugs are developed? WIB-Southern California YWIB is excited to host La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company for students interested in learning how scientists discover and develop drug therapies for patients suffering from life-threatening diseases. Attendees will tour the lab facilities and participate in interactive sessions. La Jolla Pharmaceutical scientists will lead a discussion on how they develop drugs for commercialization to benefit patients. Students will have the opportunity to meet professional women from La Jolla Pharmaceutical, who will share their passion and personal experiences working in the biotech industry.

Southern California Presents “Finding Your Niche for Career Success”

Successful career path requires clarity, courage, strength, and negotiation. In today’s rapidly changing world of work, the idea of the traditional career ladder is near extinction. Effective career navigation is now thought of as a mosaic of intentional experiences that foster learning, development, visibility, and professional fulfillment. Seeking career development opportunities both internally and externally will not only get you to your ideal role but can simultaneously maximize your impact on the organization. Join us, April 24, 2018, for an engaging session lead by Amy Bergen, Vice President of Business Development at The Leadership Edge, where we will explore how identifying your skills and talents, and combining these with your aspirations, can map your path for long-term success.
as Launch Event and Celebration of International Women's Day

The launch event was on March 8, 2018. It was a free event hosted simultaneously in Austin and Houston via video! The event started with networking, followed by the WIB-Texas launch speech where the chapter's 2018 program of social, networking and professional events was discussed. More details on this fantastic evening will be coming soon!
