WIB Seeks Candidates for its Board of Directors

Women In Bio (WIB) is seeking dynamic women leaders in the life sciences to serve on our Board of Directors and support the continued growth of our organization. WIB supports diversity and inclusion for women employed in the field of life sciences from the classroom to the boardroom. Our organization supports women every step of the way with our Young Women In Bio, Executive Women In Bio, and Boardroom Ready Programs, as well as our growing mentorship opportunities.

Directors are volunteers who must be able to advance WIB’s mission at a high level by providing strategic direction, fiduciary oversight, and fundraising support. Directors should have a strong passion for WIB’s mission and be willing to advance and promote WIB throughout the life sciences industry. If you would like to be considered for a Board position, please view the Board of Director profile located here, as well as information on how to apply, located here.

WIB-National Seeks President-Elect for 2020 (Submissions Requested by October 18)

Women In Bio (WIB) is seeking a dynamic woman volunteer to serve as President-Elect of the National organization. WIB supports diversity and inclusion for women employed in the field of life sciences from the classroom to the boardroom. We are with our members every step of the way with our Young Women In Bio, Executive Women In Bio, and Boardroom Ready Programs, as well as our growing Mentorship opportunities.

The WIB President-Elect partners with the President to implement strategic goals and objectives of the organization, advising both Chapter and National Committee Chairs. This non-compensated volunteer should be high-energy with a proven track record of crafting and executing strategies which propel organizations to successful outcomes. They should be passionate about advancing careers of women and have a robust network within life sciences. Please view the President-Elect job profile located here, as well as information on how to apply, located here.

The WIB Founders Professional Scholarship Provides Great Opportunities and Experiences - Now Accepting Applications!

WIB is accepting applications for this year’s Women In Bio Founders Scholarship which was established to advance the educational development of women in the life sciences industry by encouraging and supporting education on the business aspects of life science. The scholarship also honors WIB co-founders, Robbie Melton, Anne Mathias, Cynthia Wong, and Elizabeth Grey who all wanted to provide a forum for women to come together to celebrate and support each other’s success. Doing so creates a dynamic and invaluable forum for the local community.

We are pleased to announce WIB will offer three $1,000 professional scholarships this year. Candidates must be women who are WIB chapter members and working within the life sciences. Scholarship money can be applied toward workshops, conferences, courses, seminars, and other similar educational programs.

Click here to download the application. The application deadline is Friday, November 1, 2019. Send completed applications to scholarship@womeninbio.org.

To donate money towards the WIB Scholarship Fund click here. We encourage companies to sponsor a full scholarship. We also invite individuals to donate any amount, and you can do so in honor or in memory of someone special to you.

WIB-Seattle: Great Performances: Parallels between the Arts, Sciences, and Management

Join us for an interactive event with artists and scientists as they explore the parallels between their creative work, collaboration, leadership, and the demands of the modern business environment.

Stephanie Oestreich is both an Executive Vice President at Evotec and an accomplished violinist. She will demonstrate essential leadership skills through a musical performance. A symphony orchestra is a real-world example of teamwork, collaboration, discipline, learning, role clarity, execution, and true leadership in action between the conductor (leader) and musicians (team). This program will use exercises that facilitate a discussion between participants, conductor, and musicians about how playing in an orchestra mirrors a business environment.

To enhance the artistic environment, scientific illustration will be presented by Andrea Repetto and Abigail Wall, graduates of the University of Washington’s Natural Science Illustration program. This program combines the beauty of nature with the precision of scientific observation. The discipline and creativity needed to create great art translate directly into skills needed for great management. The results of these skills will be on display and the artists available for discussion.
WIB-Southern California: Young Women In Bio & San Diego Girl Scouts Fall into STEM 2019

Girls are invited to the first STEM Career Day at Girl Scouts San Diego. Girls will meet experts and mentors in various fields of STEM where they can discover what career paths are available in these areas. This is an event where we will have a table and YWIB members will provide meaningful experiences and knowledge for navigating STEM career paths. We will provide girls the chance to connect with female professionals and learn about pathways into a STEM field career and help them be more likely to choose STEM majors in college.
