WIB Member Spotlight - Lily Wound, National Young Women In Bio Chair

Lily Wound, partner in Goodwin’s Life Sciences practice, member of the WIB-Metro New York, and the National Young Women In Bio Chair has developed a strong team of volunteer leaders around North America to create exceptional programming for young girls interested in STEM. This includes the recent launch of the YWIB Ambassadors program and YWIB Online.

“The launch of YWIB Online comes at a time when there is a real need to provide young girls who cannot otherwise attend our events and programs with access to online programming in STEM. This will help our goal to ignite curiosity and to inspire young girls to see a future for themselves in STEM,” said Lily Wound, National Chair of YWIB. “We believe that by making these online resources available to a broader audience of girls, we can encourage more girls to find a lifelong passion and career in STEM.”

Thank you, Lily, for all you do to help move Young Women In Bio's mission forward.
Would You Like to Be a National Leader for Women In Bio?

WIB National seeks volunteers for the following positions listed below. WIB supports diversity and inclusion for women employed in the field of life sciences from the classroom to the boardroom. We are with our members every step of the way with our Young Women In Bio, Executive Women In Bio, and Boardroom Ready Programs, as well as our growing Mentorship.

To apply for a position listed below, or to express interest in volunteering in general, please complete the form located here no later than May 15, 2020.

- National Webinar Chair: The ideal candidate for this position is a person who has recruited and coordinated speakers/meetings and is comfortable with public speaking. The National position is a sub-committee of the National Programming team and will work alongside the National Programming Chair to maximize our virtual outreach.

- National YWIB Sponsorship Chair: Will work alongside the YWIB National Chair and will be responsible for helping the chapters with their strategic plans and fundraising to meet the chapter’s goals. The candidate should be comfortable asking for Non-profit funding from companies and/or organizations who value the WIB mission. The candidate will be expected to participate on the YWIB National monthly call and will need to be available to attend a few other internal committee meetings during the month.

- National WIB Entrepreneur Center (TEC) Co-Vice-Chair: Will work alongside the TEC National Chair and will be responsible for planning meetings and events to help educate and engage the entrepreneurs and founders within our chapter membership. The candidate will be expected to participate on the MAPS National monthly call and will need to be available to attend a few other internal committee meetings during the month. An entrepreneurial spirit is an important element for the candidate.

Have a Speaker or Topic Idea?

Please share your ideas for an upcoming event topic, an idea for an event, or recommend a speaker by filling out the form located here. WIB will share your ideas with National & Chapter leaders to determine future events.

WIB Wants to Hear Your Success Story

About WIB-Atlanta

Atlanta is the regional hub for the hospital technology and medical device industries and is the home of a burgeoning biotech industry that some have likened to a potential “Silicon Valley” of Biotechnology. The city has a strong reputation in global health, housing the CDC, Carter Center, and the Taskforce for Global Health.

The Atlanta chapter of WIB was founded in 2012, to cater to the women in the burgeoning life sciences sector here. WIB-Atlanta provides women a space to interact and exchange information and ideas, through a wide range of social gatherings and educational workshops. Our membership base includes researchers, sales, law professionals, business, technology transfer specialists, supportive staff, policy experts, doctors, medical/science communicators, educators and other experts.

Volunteer Opportunities with the WIB-Capital Region Chapter

Are you looking to get involved in WIB-Capital Region? Volunteering for WIB is an excellent way to gain leadership experience, give back, support our fellow WIB members, and reach out to the community. There are many opportunities at different levels of involvement across all of our committees including Programs, Membership, Communications, Sponsorship, MAPS, Young Women In Bio. Fill out this brief survey here to get started.

- WIB-Capital Region is looking for a Volunteers Chair to link volunteers with relevant events and activities. This person will track individuals who want to volunteer with WIB-Capital Region, and connect those volunteers with other chapter leaders for participation in events (such as monthly programming, communications, or YWIB activities). This person will play an important role in facilitating involvement and broadening participation of members with WIB. Please reach out to capitalregion@womeninbio.org to learn more.

- WIB-Capital Region is looking for a Programs Co-Chair to facilitate Baltimore-area programming. This person will coordinate at least three morning events in 2020 and help make one of the planned evening events happen in Baltimore. They will have help from local women who have topic and speaker ideas, in addition to connections to venues. They will also have help from and liaise with the Program Committee and the primary Programs Co-Chairs. Please reach out to capitalregion@womeninbio.org to learn more.

WIB-Capital Region Announces Executive Women In Bio (EWIB)

The Capital Region is happy to announce Executive Women In Bio (EWIB). EWIB champions greater diversity and is committed to supporting female leadership through professional development programs. EWIB strives to be a foundational resource for women in executive roles, by fostering achievement and empowering women to be the best leaders and influencers they can be through formal education, training, and structured networking. Please reach out to capitalregion@womeninbio.org to learn more about the group and upcoming events.

WIB-Capital Region COVID-19 Update

Due to the ongoing coronavirus outbreak, and with the health and safety of our members in mind, we will be postponing all March and April events. Please stay safe and take care - we will look forward to resuming programming in later months.

WIB-Pittsburgh: Virtual MAPS Peer Mentoring Program – Staying Connected While Remaining Apart

Join WIB Pittsburgh as we launch vMAPS, which will replace our traditional in-person mentoring program due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. We will hold a virtual meet-and-greet kick-off event for all participants, where we will form subgroups based on common interests. Potential subgroup topics could include coping strategies in the time of COVID, work (from home)/life balance, how to grow and maintain your network remotely, among other topics that will be chosen by the group. The subgroups will then have 3+ breakout meetings over the subsequent seven weeks. The program will culminate with a final session for all participants to reconvene, share their highlights, and discuss how to apply what we learned going forward. An overarching goal of this program is to provide you with the opportunity to connect to other WIB members in order to grow your network and enhance your professional relationships.

WIB-Southern California: Virtual Book Club Discussion w/ Local Author: Steffanie Strathdee

A San Diego local, Steffanie wrote this mystery based on a true story after visiting Egypt with her husband in November 2015. While visiting, her husband came down with a stomach bug only to learn it was tragically a drug-resistant bacterial infection that put his life in the balance.

Learn how Steffanie combed through research old and new and came across phage therapy: the idea that the right virus, aka "the perfect predator," can kill even the most lethal bacteria. Phage treatment had fallen out of favor almost 100 years ago, after antibiotic use went mainstream. Steffanie appealed to phage researchers all over the world for help. She found allies at the FDA, researchers from Texas A&M, and a clandestine Navy biomedical center-and together they resurrected a forgotten cure.

WIB-Southern California: MAPS Business Operations Fireside Chat

The fifth event in our MAPS Special Interest Panels (SIPs) series will feature WIB members who have transitioned from the bench to business operations, filling roles such as sales, business development, legal, or project management with life science companies.

This event is ideal for those thinking about a transition or working to identify the ideal next path in their career. Hear from these women and enjoy networking before and after with them and others in WIB-Southern California to learn more.

WIB’s SIPs Fireside Chats are 60 minute Q&A panels with life science professionals from the Mentorship, Advisors, Peers, Sponsorships (MAPS) programs who share how they transitioned from one type of role in life science to another. MAPS peer groups meet monthly for six months with a mix of junior and senior professionals working together to support each other's career development. Enrollment for peer groups occurs twice annually in April and October.
