

Help Us Recruit Real Estate's Best and Brightest

Call to Action

Competition for the best and brightest MBA students has never been greater. We are actively seeking top candidates to apply for the Real Estate MBA, and we need your help to keep our program strong! By serving as our "personal references" and sharing how the Wisconsin Real Estate Program has helped you toward your professional and personal goals, you can help spark interest in the Wisconsin Real Estate MBA.

Share Your Passion for the Wisconsin Real Estate Program

When a potential candidate becomes connected with a group of Real Estate Badgers, he or she can experience the shared sense of culture, see the long-time friendships, experience the great networking opportunities, and receive the personal encouragement that can be the difference between a student choosing Wisconsin or another school.

How can you help?

- » Invite a talented young professional to a local or regional WREAA event.
- » Invite a potential student to meet with you one-on-one for an informal get together to learn more about the program.
- » Ask your colleagues if they know of any young professionals who are looking to change careers and/or advance their career in the real estate industry.
- » Invite a potential student to visit the Graaskamp Center and UW-Madison. Connect candidates to Sharon McCabe, Associate Director of the Graaskamp Center, and she can arrange a visit.

Attributes of students who succeed in real estate

- Passion for real estate
- Take initiative
- Confident
- Hardworking
- Financial literacy
- Connectors
- Presentation skills
- Level-headed
- Leadership Potential

Fast Facts

Top Ranked

Wisconsin is consistently ranked among the top three real estate programs in by U.S. News & World Report.

Business Ready Knowledge and Skills

With a wide variety of specialized real estate courses, such as real estate law, valuation, Argus lease analysis, economics and urban development, students receive a one-of-a-kind immersion that helps them excel in their career.

Lifelong Professional Community

Students benefit from access to a tight-knit group of over 1,800 real estate alums around the world and can connect with senior executives in the industry through the Graaskamp Center's Board of Advisors, which consists of over 130 industry leaders.

World-Class Faculty

Our faculty are at the frontier of knowledge in real estate economics and finance and share their expertise with public policy makers and the real estate industry.

Learn more at:

www.bus.wisc.edu/realestate/

Contact Information

Sharon McCabe

sharon.mccabe@wisc.edu
(608) 890-2493

Sharon McCabe, associate director at The Graaskamp Center can advise and guide you in the MBA recruitment process.

Tim Riddiough

timothy.riddiough@wisc.edu
(608) 262-3531

Tim Riddiough, Graaskamp Center Academic Director, can answer questions on the curriculum and Wisconsin's unique Applied Real Estate Investment Track.

