

Leah Yoakum

301-459-7590

jsitel.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Registration Now Open for JSI's 2019 Financial Seminars

GREENBELT, MD, June 10, 2019 – JSI invites telco CFOs, accountants and other financial staff looking for the latest information affecting their companies' balance sheets and cost studies to attend its Part 32 & Part 64 Accounting Seminar and Separations & Access Seminar in Nashville this October. The seminars run independently of each other, but attendees can register for the seminar bundle at a reduced rate. The 2019 seminars are:

Accounting - Tues., October 1

JSI's Accounting Seminar provides a detailed review and explanation of the FCC's Part 32 and Part 64 accounting principles and applications. JSI Vice Presidents Brian Sullivan and Ryan Denzel will discuss and analyze specific issues raised by the FCC's recent changes to accounting procedures, including detailed discussion of "allowable" expenses for USF and NECA purposes, as well as increased regulatory scrutiny of the Part 64 allocation mechanisms. This seminar also covers the ongoing audits and reviews that have been implemented by USAC and the FCC. Attendees of this seminar receive 8 CPE credits.

Separations & Access - Wed.-Fri., October 2-4

JSI's 2019 Separations and Access Seminar will focus on responding to today's broadband network and services, in addition to its usual assessment of cost settlements, regulated and non-regulated allocations, jurisdictional categorizations, access procedures, and intercarrier compensation. This year's seminar will include continued reform of Universal Service funding mechanisms; data reporting and compliance for A-CAM electors; special access/BDS opportunities; using operational and financial data to manage for success; and federal and state grants – issues and opportunities. Attendees of this seminar receive 20 CPE credits.

Additional information and online registration for the seminars are available on the JSI website. Those who register for both seminars receive a discount, and if they do so before July 15, they'll save an additional $100.

###

We hope you'll share this information with your members. A one-page flier that can be shared is available here. If you'd like a short seminar description for your newsletter or any other information about the seminars, please contact Brenda Cordwell. Thank you for helping us spread the word!

About JSI

JSI provides financial, management, regulatory, business development, marketing, strategic planning and training services to ILECs, CLECs, video and broadband providers and other telecom companies across the nation. JSI can assist with forecasting, strategic planning, competitive pricing/bundling, new business assessment, operational reform, strategic partnerships, mergers/acquisitions and more. With more than 100 professionals on staff, JSI has been the industry leader in offering business solutions to independent providers since 1962. In addition to its Maryland headquarters, JSI has regional offices in Atlanta, Minneapolis, Austin, and Salt Lake City. Find us at jsitel.com.